My name is [REDACTED] I feel compelled to share with you my UFO encounter. I'm a veteran of the Navy and the Coast Guard. While I'm the Coast Guard I saw some some wicked shit. I thought that I would go to the grave not knowing what it was that I saw. Your operation has validated my memory and given me some peace of mind. I am immensely impressed with your courage and determination directed at those who stand in the way of saving our species and planet from destruction. Please direct me on how and where to share my testimony. I want to help in any way I'm able. I'm not able to do much but I'll do what I can.

Take care and stay alive,

Hello [REDACTED]
The first step would be for you to share what you saw with us via email.
Please include:
where you were
Why you were there
In what capacity were you serving
Date
Time if you have it
Others who might have seen the same event and would they be willing to come forward.

Thank you so much.
Sincerely

Thank you for your prompt reply. I'm going to do my best to recount the details of the incredible things that I witnessed.

I was assigned to [REDACTED] while while on patrol in the Caribbean Sea. I did not know the exact position and heading of the ship. I was a Damage Controlman which means I worked in the engine room far away from the operational/tactical environment on the bridge.
My rank was Petty Officer Second Class, paygrade E-5. The approximate date was January of 2010. Our home port at that time was Portsmouth Naval Shipyard in Kittery, ME. We had a new CO that was hell bent on finding drugs in the Caribbean Sea, so we would make the week long trip just to get into the op area. On the way home on a northern heading I had just gotten off the mid-watch in the engine room. My watch title was Engine Room Watch. I tended to the operation of the main engines and other propulsion equipment. The mid-watch begins at 11:30 pm and ends at 3:30 am. What I whitenesses occurred closer to 4:00 am than 3:30 am. Myself and the rest of the engine room watch team were relieved on time and I went to the starboard 02 weather deck to smoke a cigarette before going to bed. The spooky thing is I think the operator(s) of the craft knew our watch schedule.

This is where the rubber hits the road. Myself and about 4 to 5 others were smoking and talking about whatever it was that happened on watch. I remember that I was talking with my friend and fellow Damage Controlman Nathan who was on watch with me in the engine room. I remember gazing off to the horizon and seeing several stars(it was a clear night.) What had previously appeared to be a star increased its luminosity by 4 to 5 times. I'm an amateur astronomer and I'm familiar with star magnitudes. The stars I was looking at were relatively dim at about magnitude 3 or so. This object lit up brighter than the planet Venus. I'm estimating magnitude -5 to -6. The color of the object was a brilliant white. This thing lit up and remained stationary relative to the ship for about 2 to 3 seconds. It then accelerated at a rate faster than anything I had ever seen in the direction moving away from the stern of the ship. It was beyond our horizon in what I think was less than 2 seconds. I have never seen anything like it since. I smoked another few cigarettes after this thing performed it's magic trick. A few things occurred to me while I stood there chain smoking. First, the operator(s) of this craft were surveilling the [REDACTED] and most likely knew who we were. Second, they didn't care that we saw them in fact they may have wanted us to see them. And third, they knew that any reports to our superiors would fall on def ears.

Myself and my friend [REDACTED] had a falling out shortly after this encounter. I'm able to contact him on Facebook messenger if necessary. This fraud that is being committed at the expense of the world population is much bigger than any differences I may have with an estranged friend.

My phone number is [REDACTED] I'm not afraid of these bastards. What you're doing is historic and worth fighting for. I'm doing this for my kids future. I hope that they may live on a peaceful planet within their lifetimes. Perhaps they can live in harmony with nature once again. The only tool these people have is to turn our fears against us. At the moment these "people" hold most of the cards. We must move quickly and effectively.

Take good care of yourself [REDACTED] and if you can please shake Dr. Greer's hand for me. We need all the heroes we can get.

A Terrestrial Patriot,
