Report No. Two

This report is my own and I am submitting it because of some rather strange details connected with it. I do not say that what I saw was a UFO, but the strangeness of the sighting I believe merits some review.

Time: approximately 6:30 pm on Sunday March 28, 1967

Place: North Andover, Mass. at the junction of routes 125 and 114.

No. of Observers: (four) Myself and my wife and a friend and his wife (Mr. + Mrs. Terry Hazelton)

Reliability: I can vouch for myself and my wife and Mr. + Mrs. Hazelton. Mr. Hazelton is an English teacher in the Vineyard Haven School, Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

No. of Objects: one

Sound: None

Speed: Substantial but not overwhelming - object hovered or floated or skipped rather than "flew".

Time: Object was viewed by all for at least one full minute. I observed it longer as described on back.

My wife, myself, and Mr. and Mrs.  were traveling south on route 125 in North Andover, Mass. on Sunday, March 28, 1967 when approximately 6:30 p.m. I noticed what appeared to be a bright light to my left and front which would be southeast. The sky at this time was not yet black but rather a grayish-blue with a small scattering of grayish cirrus clouds. There were a few stars high in the sky that had not yet reached true brilliance. At first I thought this light to be a star but it appeared different in some way so that I continued to view it. It was not high as were the other stars but remained between the high sky and what I term the "high horizon". I had been viewing it for about two minutes when it occurred to me that the light was getting larger and more intense. I then realized that whatever it was, it was moving directly towards us. It was then that I brought the object to the attention of the other three occupants of the car.

They also agreed that it was moving toward us. It was at this point that we were approaching the junction of route 114. This is normally a very busy section but the traffic was very light at this particular time.

As we stopped for the traffic light at the junction, we noticed the light seemed to turn sideways or almost northwest as it passed behind Merrimack College which is situated on one corner of the junction. (see diagram) As it did so, the light appeared to be actually two lights, one at either end of what seemed an elongated body. It moved across our vision (crossing a "T") and the lights seemed to blend as one. (I must add that at no time did anyone even suggest that it might be a plane.) The strangeness was in its flight. It did not fly as I have hundreds of times observed of an aircraft, but rather it floated or "skipped" across the sky. We were all quite puzzled when the light simply went out! It did not fade or filter out but rather vanished as suddenly as if someone had thrown off a switch. The ^{traffic} light had turned green so we drove ahead into the College parking lot and got out. My wife then pointed out the object as it was silhouetted against a cirrus cloud. It appeared black against the grayish cloud and resembled a football in appearance. We observed the object this way for about ten seconds whereafter it was completely gone from our view.

Those are the main points of the sighting as I recall them. I do not speculate on what it was but my friends and I talked it over and these were our strange findings.

(11) No more than two minutes had passed when a light plane took off from the Lawrence, Mass. airport which was at least ten minutes away. The plane rose into the sky in the same general area that the object had disappeared. The difference between the plane and the object was like night and day. The plane rose and flew off with the same motion of all aircraft. It was visibly decked out with multi-colored, blinking running lights. The object in no way resembled a plane except that it too was in the sky.

(2) Routes 114 and 125 are placed in one of the most inhabited sections of Essex County. Lawrence, Mass. was less than 2 miles away (pop. 50,000+). Lowell, Mass. less than 9 miles away (pop. 100,000) and Haverhill, Mass. less than 10 miles away (pop. 30,000) all within a huge concentric circle. Also, a major airport (commercial jets fly in here) was no more than a mile away. Why, if the object were a plane, would the pilot cut all his lights when approaching a major airport and 3 major cities? We could not figure this out!

(3) We were wondering if any other people had seen this but no reports were forthcoming. There was not much traffic as I have said and the cars that did pass by were headed towards Haverhill.

(The object would have been behind them) I was amazed, however, when a friend of mine who knew I was interested in U.F.O.'s told me this story:

He had been standing on his front porch on the night of March 28, 1967 when about 6:30 p. he noticed a bright light somewhere out towards North Andover. (A Mr.  lives in Haverhill on Mt. Washington (Silver Hill) which is quite high and affords a view of the valley) He reported that the brightness of the light attracted him and that as it seemed to turn almost in his direction, the light snapped off and he saw it no more. He wondered if it had heard any reports about it. I again checked his date and time to see if it was accurate, and then told him my story. From this information it seems quite clear that something flew over the junction of roads 14 + 125 on March 28, 1967 that was seen and verified from two positions entirely independent of each other. Diagrams are on the next page.
