

Now – For the first time on a commercial Audio Cassette – Actual De-classified Air Force audio recordings of a startling real life event, which took place on the night of October 7, 1965 at Edwards Air Force Base in California. Important highlights selected from over 6 hours of original recordings, which indicate that a squadron from another planet was overflying one of our nation's most important military air bases. The same time hundreds of important scientists were at Edwards to see demonstrations of advanced rocket aircraft for possible space flight. Were other observers there for those demonstrations too?

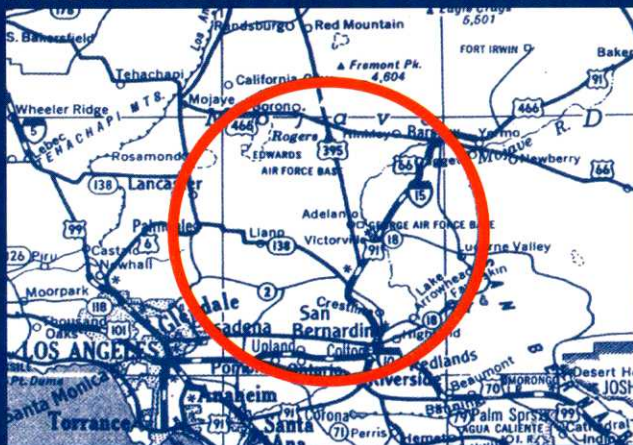

During the night time event – code name: "The Incident", a jet fighter interceptor was launched after what are commonly called UFOs – Unidentified Flying Objects. Air Force personnel, skilled at target identification, were not chasing the Planet Venus, Stars, Satellites, Planes, Helicopters or Weather Balloons. The military men in the area of Edwards Air Force Base and the related bases knew that something out of the normal was flying in their air space.

They saw luminous objects emitting white, red and green light. Findings from Radar, Heightfinders and visual observation from the towers and interceptor plane indicated that the performance of these flying objects was definitely beyond our capability at that time – and possibly out of this world.

A recent poll indicated that 50% of the American public believes that UFOs are real interplanetary craft operating on and above the Earth. Everybody from the curious general public to science fiction fans will want to own this amazing recording and play it for friends and family many times over. This is a recording that will meet buyer demand today and will be a valuable item to own in permanent collections for the future.
