Subject: Fw: Ex-NSA specialist details career in a government alien contact project

Due to denial of service hacking into our server the contents of aboveblack.com have been moved to this temporary location at orderdept.com/ab. It seems someone doesn't want this website to be up. I wish they'd get a life. :-(

Welcome...

My name is ██████ and ABOVE BLACK documents three years of my life as a member of the USAF working for the NSA as an electronic intelligence specialist. During that time, I was an integral part of a project called Preserve Destiny... a project deeply involved with alien contact.

It is a true story. I am by no means a nut or whacko. I'm just your average citizen. My political affiliation is Republican, I'm a devoted father (back cover of book states I have no children... it was printed before my baby girl was born), a loving husband, a business owner and proud American.

Since my book's release in 1997, I have been interviewed on Sightings on the Air with Jeff Rense twice, Coast to Coast with Art Bell and have spoken in front of over 100,000 people regarding my experience. I've also been interviewed over 100 times for radio, TV and print and my book has been shipped to more than 45 countries. There's even been a musical CD written, the music of which was inspired after the musician read my book. Exposure like this is not usually given to books documenting fictional accounts of real life experiences. So, I reiterate... this is a true story.

Therefore, before passing judgment, read the free online chapters, read the extensive reviews and view a document

<<http://www.orderdept.com/ab/orders.htm>> that was used to move me from one base to another. (If you know what you're looking for with this type of document, you'll see some very interesting pieces of information.)

I'm told over and over again by readers of my book that they didn't really believe the US government was in contact with an alien race until they read ABOVE BLACK. I believe the reader can sense that I'm describing things, just as they happened.

I have to address the obvious... why did I come forward with my story? Please know that I didn't do it to make money or be famous (I actually dread that part... I have a business <[REDACTED]> (it's down right now!) to run and this gets in the way, especially with credibility issues.) My ultimate goal is to heighten public awareness about what is going on within our government and to get the word out that we are not alone in the universe. Of course, I'm not oblivious to the fact that my experience is something people want to read so, yes, I make money from the sale of the book. It's no different than an ex-president or someone else in government writing about their experience while in office and selling their story in book form. It supplements my income and allows me, financially, to speak to groups about my experience when I have the time to do so. But I am by no means becoming wealthy from the sale of ABOVE BLACK.

Although I had no chance of coming away from my experience with hard evidence, the circumstantial evidence is overwhelming and after you read the book, you will find yourself questioning why your government is hiding Preserve Destiny from the public. (The "Shadow" government, that is.)

I hope ABOVE BLACK will bring you some measure of peace. The kind of peace that only knowledge can bring. Please keep up the search, be vigilant and always question what you don't understand. Someday, perhaps, we will all know the entire truth behind the alien question. For me, that day will not come soon enough.

Best wishes,

[REDACTED]
