RE: Follow-up on Ralph

Dear Steven;

First of all, I want to thank you for what I consider to be one of the most influential experiences that I have ever had in my life.

In addition to the "normal" corporate and airline experience, I have flown, helicopters in combat (Vietnam), 4 engine transports in the desserts of Saudi Arabia, jets at 40,000 ft, and flew as a bush pilot in Alaska, but I have never had an experience as I had last week in Crestone.

I appreciate your dedication to your cause, and am grateful to be a part of this historic time. I will certainly follow through on my part by getting an active group here in St Petersburg.

In any event, I was able to find a few documents that Chuck had sent to me back in 1997. I also was able to speak with Chuck again, and he is willing to work with us in pursuing the location of Ralph.

As I mentioned, Ralph was removed from his house upon recommendations from myself and friends. Sometime later, Chuck's house had a fire, and apparently all documents related to Ralph were destroyed. However, months prior to the fire, some of the documents were faxed to me on my request, as I still had an interest in the project.

For some unknown reason, not all the faxes were received by me as I distinctly remember reading more documents. There were discussions (in the documents) about some spectral analysis on the material that surrounded the skeletal structure and that they had a high content of copper and aluminum.

In trying to recreate the chronology of the events, I believe that John Richards (See letter dated May 23, 1997) contacted Chuck.

Chuck was a former Nasa pilot, (Flew the UH-1 and the Grumman G-1) and also was very good friends with James Irwin of Apollo fame. I personally met James Irwin at Chuck's home when Chuck lived in Orlando. Chuck had the distinction of being one of the only American pilots authorized to fly in Turkish and Iraq airspace in his search for Noah's Arc back in that time period.

Chuck actually has always been quite a celebrity in the helicopter world, as well as a tight association with the Archeological circles. Thus people would seek him out, and consequently Ralph arrived at Chuck's doorstep. He is now the only helo pilot authorized to do low level aerobatics in a helicopter in the US.

I first saw Ralph in 1997 when I flew to California to ride motorcycles with Chuck along the Pacific Coast Highway.

He had Ralph in a sealed barrel wrapped in plastic. We were actually having a BBQ at his house when his wife suggested that he show me "Ralph". He pulled the skeleton from the barrel and layed it on an old sheet on the grass in the back yard. He then asked me what I thought it was. I certainly could not identify it at all and initially thought it was some kind of joke.

Then he pulled out a loose leaf binder that had documents related to the different studies that were performed. I could not believe my eyes. Bottom line, no one seemed to get right to the point in identifying Ralph. In fact, Chuck stated that only one of the many that reviewed Ralph stated that it was a dead cow, and left the room. (Well maybe it is, but my vet in Orlando said that it did not look like any cow that he had ever seen)

Relative to the documents, once you read through them, some things will become clear. The story as related to me from Chuck is that there was a UFO sighting over Ft Smith Ark. (In fact I am almost certain that I saw a newspaper article furnished by Chuck, related to a UFO incident over Ft Smith about the same time as the appearance of Ralph). During this incident, apparently there was something or someone roaming around the base and that the military wanted it dead or alive. Shots were fired but nothing was found.

It is suspected that the entity was wounded and died. Thereafter, animals apparently had eaten (or pulled) part of the skeletal structure away from the body. However, apparently before it died, it had roamed through the woods . (As mentioned in one of the documents). See attached document.

As you can see, there are quit a few names of people that had reviewed Ralph. Apparently after the dust had settled, someone from Nasa Ames wanted to photograph Ralph. (I misunderstood Chuck last week, in that he did not let Ralph out of his site and he did not wind up at Ames after all)
Ralph was sent to a friend's house somewhere in California.

In summary:

Chuck has agreed to call and try to locate Ralph.

It might be a good idea to call Chuck once this is all reviewed as Chuck is very connected to the man that owns Redbull(The high energy drink) and that person may be a source of funding (partial or full ?) for you. I don't know, but we can feel this part out. If he spends that kind of money on aircraft, this might be a good fit for him, as they are both the adventuresome type anyway. The owner lives in Europe , I think Germany but I am not sure)

Take a look at the photo and let me know if this is worth pursuing. I have the only original photo and will forward to you if you need it.
