

Office Address:

[REDACTED] M.D.

Mailing Address:

561

October 5, 1996

Dear Steve,

You have well framed the problem and I thank you for your letter. I sent a copy to [REDACTED] and would suggest that when your paths cross that you renew your friendship. He has some exciting data and he should be encouraged to engage in the cruel discipline of preparing formal reports. He should shortly finish what ought to be a most intriguing television documentary:

[REDACTED] recently became an American citizen. He is from Peru and is a graduate of Georgetown.

Also Good [REDACTED] must be on your mailing list. By all means if you have not I would strongly urge you to send him your open letter and put him on your list of communications:

Matters are moving at a fast pace and who knows something yet might come out of it all. Good luck in your work!

