

Global Power Station

Maui, Hawaii

*A Center for enlightenment,
empowering both people and the planet.*

Draft Concept Design

Brian O'Leary, President

Global Power Station

Global Power Station

Maui, Hawaii

*A Center for enlightenment,
empowering both people and the planet.*

"We are on a journey toward authentic power, and...authentic empowerment is the goal of our evolutionary process and the purpose of our being. We are evolving from a species that pursues external power into a species that pursues authentic power. We are leaving behind exploration of the physical world as our sole means of evolution. This means of evolution, and the consciousness that results from an awareness that is limited to the five-sensory modality, are no longer adequate to what we must become".

-From The Seat of the Soul by Gary Zukav

Purpose:

1. To provide a forum for the evolution of conscious awareness within individuals and groups by providing knowledge, understanding and enlightenment for a sustainable and positive global future.
2. To provide a forum and laboratory for the exploration and discovery of new science and art, leading to a worldwide awakening in consciousness.
3. To set an example of the new paradigm that we are living in now through an aesthetic, ecologically balanced physical and spiritual structure of the center itself.

INTRODUCTION

As we rapidly approach the new millennium, many of us perceive that our Global Village is on the threshold of colossal change. Our science seems to have become hopelessly destructive. The Earth appears on the brink of death/resurrection, yet we seem helpless in the face of unprecedented collective insensitivity about our precious physical environment. Can we make a difference?

Absolutely. A recent public survey suggests that a growing constituency of Americans (now one fourth or 44 million of us) believe in re-greening the Earth. We feel this is a wave of the future coming upon us very soon.

We know the cleanup will be a big job. Yet the time is nigh that we start the journey. Recent scientific research is making it increasingly clear that consciousness is the foundation of a new paradigm of science which is turning materialistic physics literally upside down. Environmental preservation, free energy and transportation, healing with the mind, communication with nonhuman intelligence, group energy alignments, self-sufficient community and blending with nature are the emerging technologies of the new paradigm as we begin to understand our greater essence.

The Global Power Station was founded as an example of the new paradigm. One could conceive of this as a university of the twenty first century, as an institute of Eden, as a research and learning center for the acquisition of what Gary Zukav calls authentic power, as a place to heal, reflect, interact and vision. We picked the following runes which represent these foundational qualities of the center: love, compassion, wisdom and serenity.

The Global Power Station on Maui will provide an idyllic tropical setting for advanced studies of this emerging paradigm. The power we will be producing does not require smokestacks, it does not pollute the air, deplete the oil or make noise. There will be no wires like those of our existing grid system.

The power we envision creating is not only clean electricity. It more resembles a Zen web of consciousness radiating out of nodal points communicating the new, empowering others and leading to an eventual global awakening. We plan to gather top new paradigm scientists, artists and leaders to form an enlightened community, faculty, students and staff. We plan to video, audio, write, heal, study, teach, learn, build, paint, play music, and convene retreats, educational and leadership workshops and healing seminars.

The Seven Sacred Substations could be thought of as departments of the university, but in this case much more interactive. As the following concept sketch shows, newcomers to the station would first pass through the community/health substation for healing and grief work around their personal paradigm shift.

They would then pursue a curriculum of a blend of substation "majors": bonding, sacred art, sacred science, consciousness research and communication with nonhuman intelligence.

We plan to be self-sufficient as soon as possible (food, money, energy, health care, etc.). This will empower us to be free in making wise choices about our future, or in the event we islanders somehow get cut off from the rest of the world.

We invite you to pursue this draft concept design. We welcome ideas. This is a co-creation serving a higher purpose which is just beginning.

GLOBAL POWER STATION and The Seven Sacred Substations

THE SEVEN SACRED SUBSTATIONS

(Faculty will serve on one or more of these)

"Build it and they will come"

- from the film Field of Dreams

1. SACRED SCIENCE

This is the science underlying the unity of all things; the new broader whole-systems paradigm which transcends materialistic reductionism. This new science embraces research in consciousness, free energy, healing, the survival of death, etc. Here we join metaphysics with physics, spirit with the material world, East with West, myth and synchronicity as hypothesis to higher realities, gateways to higher dimensions. We will work closely with our colleagues at the Society for the Universal Human, Institute of Noetic Sciences, International Association for New Science, the Esalen Institute, the California Institute for Integral Studies and others to develop an innovative program of scientific research and education.

2. CONSCIOUSNESS, FREE ENERGY AND HEALING RESEARCH

In-house theoretical and experimental research will lead to manufacturing devices that will supplant a polluting energy industry. We will also conduct research in psychokinesis using random event generators as monitors of the degree of group coherence. In this way, we may learn the secrets of manifestation and of an eventual awakening to universal consciousness.

We will also teach healing and metal bending and connect with leading miracle workers such as Sai Baba, Uri Geller and Thomaz Green Morton. Developing these ideas will eventually enable us to responsibly create our own realities. Here we also conceive scenarios of a sustainable global future based on deep ecology in concert with the emerging technologies of consciousness.

3. COMMUNICATING WITH NONHUMAN INTELLIGENCE

This communications substation includes research on understanding and developing links with all of nature. Included are whales, dolphins, aliens, angels, deceased loved ones, nature spirits and Gaia herself. We are planning to also study the implications of crop circles and Mars anomalies. And we will set up experiments designed to communicate with the deceased using "Moody mirrors". Consciousness-altering methods such as meditation, ceremony, rebirthing, holotropic breathing and sensory deprivation tanks will be explored in attempting to contact other beings and realities.

Active ongoing participation with groups in revealing secret information on UFOs, and sponsoring field trips designed to interact with UFOs, could make the Global Power Station a true interdimensional and extraterrestrial communications station. Results will be folded into scenarios for developing sustainable global policies. This substation is dedicated to the peaceful outreach and interaction with the nonhuman universe.

4. MANIFESTING IN THE WORLD

This well-equipped video, audio, photographic, publications, information and entertainment center will provide an on-going recording of events at the Station as well as new information and global updates obtainable on the Internet, leading to the production of educational and entertaining products to be marketed world wide. We also plan to have courses in marketing and manifesting, public events and children's programs, coordinating with other Maui institutions such as the Cyber cafe and the Arts and Cultural Center.

The goal of this Maui and global outreach is the peaceful and empowering interaction with the human world. The Global Power Station will also be an idyllic retreat for world leaders-a place for them to reflect on greater essence and to make peace for one another in these times of great change.

5. COMMUNITY AND HEALTH

This is the operational hub that will manage the daily business of the station: personnel, financial management, events, logistics, guest speakers, storefront interfaces, food production, native Hawaiian activities and other community needs. Incomers will pass through this point to become healed and otherwise acclimated to the refined community and environment of the Station. We introduce the concept of paradigm counseling, where individuals and groups are advised how to overcome their resistance to the new paradigm and how to grieve the old. The goal is to have things running so smoothly that faculty and students are free to do their creative work.

6. BONDING

This circle uniquely focuses on relationship enhancement to increase the feeling of harmony (and therefore productivity) on campus for the students, faculty and staff. Activities include spiritual marriage counseling and ceremonies, therapy, natural healing, evolutionary circles, facilitating workshops and retreats and group spirit building. Collaborating with substation #2, we will employ random event generators to monitor and to provide feedback on the degree of group focus.

7. SACRED ART

This center (perhaps called Tranquillity Base) will focus on the Venetian beauty of the property (geomancy, ecological design, serenity, etc.) as well as provide an opportunity for leading artists, writers, craftspeople, musicians and performers to experience, create and teach within the awe and wonder of Eden.

STOREFRONT / RESTAURANT / GALLERY / AUDITORIUM / VISITORS' CENTER

This is the for-profit sector open to the public near the main road. Products created by faculty and updated literature, videos, music, art, gifts, etc. will be shown and be sold as well as a schedule of events and lectures.

THE ROUND TABLE

Sacred Art and Sacred Science will join in the sanctity of gatherings, ceremony and the acquisition of ancient wisdom through Hawaiian and other traditions, storytelling, and using myth as hypothesis. At the Round Table will be gathered visionaries for the Earth and its inhabitants, to formulate new policies for an enlightened future, embodied by wisdom, compassion, love and serenity.

The Global Power Station will also be an idyllic retreat for world leaders - a place for them to reflect a greater essence and to make peace with one another under common cause.

SOME REFLECTIONS....

Where there was once battle, peace can be brought back to Gaia's heart. We live on a newly birthed piece of land in the center of the ring of fire. Maui is the heart, throbbing in once fiery lava. Hawaiian legend says that Maui was a warrior who lassoed the sun and slowed it down so we could have time, so we could experience life on Eden, so we can learn to innovate and to grow together.

Whatever emanates from this center, peacemakers can send forth the message for the New Eden, as a possibility of deepening relationship, of shared vision, of bonding.

We forgive the past, and move on into new relationship. And so it goes for the entire Earth and its inhabitants as we enter the great uncertainties and opportunities of the next millennium.