British documents also

Am still reading the above book, but it contains some excellent research which indicates that a number of UFOs "crashed" in Great Britain.

7 BAE

Some of these we were already aware of, but some are definitely new cases.

Of particular interest is the one that actually came down during WW II, which was the original crash that the late journalist Dorothy Kilgallen was referring to, having been tipped off by Lord Mountbatten (also killed).

Although I am still putting up new cases, the CSETI crash List now stands at a staggering 231 incidents - and most people think it was "just" Roswell.

By the way, when asked by a journalist how many craft crashed at Roswell, Col. Corso held up three fingers.
