Thank you for your response. I am, of course, aware of Dr Greer's busy schedule and I hope that my email did not imply that I was upset from not having heard from him. It was just that after having corresponded with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED], I got the impression that Dr Greer was interested in learning more about Dr [REDACTED] encounter...and so it was a bit surprising to me that he did not promptly reply. Perhaps [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] misinterpreted Dr Greer's intentions...in any case...no harm done.

We are presently undertaking many disclosure initiatives of our own, so we would not be able to immediately participate in his Program anyway. But, I wanted to at least keep in occasional contact so that if at some point it becomes beneficial for both of our teams to collaborate, we have at least a basic understanding of each others' goals and expectations.

Thank you for clarifying what your near term goals are and best of luck to you and Dr Greer.

PS: I am also a volunteer...so I understand and appreciate the sacrifices involved with what you are doing... thanks again.

[REDACTED]

I am Dr. Greer's assistant(volunteer), and just found your message of August 2. Sorry for the lack of response earlier. It doesn't indicate a lack of interest, but a lack of help and time. Dr. Greer gets so many messages that he doesn't have time to deal with all of them himself.

Plans for our disclosure program are to present military, government, and scientific witnesses initially, rather than the experiences of private citizens. This is to maintain the utmost credibility when this subject is first presented to the public, the President, Congress, etc.

We will be interested in hard physical ET evidence, however, so please let me know the availability of yours (the bracelet, etc.), or scientific reports documenting its off-planet origin, etc.

If you are interested, Dr. Greer will be on the Mike Siegel show August 15, and will most likely be discussing the disclosure effort.

Best wishes to you and [REDACTED] in your struggle to bring the Truth to light.

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]
