Subject: 1980 US Army Vet Project Luna

Dr. Greer,

Greetings from a fellow North Carolinian!

I am privileged enough to be related to a US Army veteran who was given top-secret clearance to work in the underground complex built by the various military agencies.

I have recorded a couple hours of his testimony and have authentic documentation of his service. He has decided to come forward as a way to help bring an end to financial tyranny and also because he believes 2012 is a seminal year in which the truth must be exposed.

Please find more information at my site:

Hey Steven,

This is Cosmic, I was wanting to share with you a few things, actually. In an ordered list below, as follows; contact in my family, energy suppression in my family, as well a witness to the live broadcasting of roswell, and whatever else falls in the middle of those.

First, i'm not going to bore you with all of the sightings and details, as between you and I and them, it's pretty straight forward. what I will say, is sightings in my family, are really primarily on my mothers side. I've never heard anything from my fathers side, siblings or other. But, from my mothers side, I have a story for everyone. My mother will keep you on the phone for hours, so I try and limit that call, but she has alot of interesting things to tell. From being taken off the roof of a garage, to chasing a ufo down the street, to being followed by them. My oldest brother claims to have seen one at our old house when he was young parked in the front yard, but would probably not talk about it today, as his mind is cluttered with the same system that we're trying to eliminate, ie: money, power, fame, ect. But, he will not deny the facts. Myself, as i've seen many, it is not my most treasured to be able to see. but, to interact with them via etheric, has been my motivation and primary relationship. In fact, I will attach a drawing I did, which i'm curious to know what your feeling is when you see it, because I do in fact know you have met. Without beating around the bush, or waiting for your reply, i'll just tell you her name is "Milena."

Second, My grandfather worked for "Ford" his entire life as a welder, of course dead now. So, you may use this as reference and I cannot give you any kind of physical affirmation. but, while he was employed at Ford, he became real auto savvy, even built a shop to work in. Several occasions modifying, testing, and cars later... he came up with a system on his vehicle, which ever I can't remember, that was getting over 80 mpg. I do remember making the trips between Ohio and South Carolina however. My father, and uncle, who were also side by side with him in the shop on many occasions could give that confirmation, if they were alive today, sadly..they are not. Meanwhile, back at Ford, my grandfather took his findings and designs to someone, trying to market them within Ford ranks. After reviewing the designs and data, they took his paperwork, and told him he could use the design on his car for personal use, but was never to make or try to sell another one. That's the story, anyhow.

I'm going to try to sum up in this last paragraph. I know that the fuel modification is superfluous at this point, but as far as confirmation of the energy suppression, it does seem valid. Contact, or MilAb going on in my family, I believe so, at least on my mothers end. Contact, and increasing interactions with other beings and craft, physically provable evidence, no. Witness testimony, to the live broadcast of the Roswell "incident," yes, alive and well at 87 (Swansea, Sc.).

I'm going to leave you with that, probably nothing for you to use in there, but. I do hope to hear at least a reply from you, as I have made several attempts in the past, to no avail.

I'm really digging the Blog you got up as well, hope to see the updates rolling in and progresses made. I have an Avatar and Background I made for Sirius as well, if you'd like to see those i'll attach them too.
