

witness

[REDACTED]

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Cc: [REDACTED]
Sent: Sunday, May 02, 2004 8:56 PM
Subject: witness in New Zealand

FYI

Power company worker gets a glimpse of how military base handles UFOs.

[REDACTED]

----- Original Message -----

Date: Sun, 2 May 2004 19:04:41 +1200 (NZST)

From: [REDACTED]

Subject: Did I mention this before?

To: [REDACTED]

I was employed by the Bunnythorpe Electrical Power Sub-station, near Palmerston North, I was a Linesman checking servicing the power lines distributing power to local towns. We received a call to have our men go out to Ohakea Military Airport. They wanted us to paint the high wooded tower upon which was topped with an array of communication aerials. The Radio Shack was beside this. As we worked one of the men came out, and out of curiosity I asked him did he every come across Unidentified Flying Objects, I was surprised he said it often happened but most were inversions, a highly charged cloud passing over. But he said "come I will show you something." And he took me into the Radio Shack, there on the wall was a silhouette chart of the outlines of friendly aircraft. Next to this was another chart of silhouette's of UFOs of various shapes. And labeled, "NOT TO BE FIRED UPON." He told me that every Allied Navel Vessel, every Air Force installation had a copy of this chart. I do not know if he had been allowed to show me or if it was an oversight doing so on his part. But it was unusual the civilian doing work on such facilities so he might not have been warned not to reveal this to civilians.

There has also been on my mind that the numbering of all towns and cities with a zip code can also be used as an immediate reference for targeting missiles.

[REDACTED]

5/3/04