Hi Steven,

I heard a rerun of a previous Art Bell show last night which you might be interested in. I heard (and taped) the original broadcast, and meant to mention it, but forgot. The guest was Bruce Rux, who has written a book called "Hollywood vs. the Aliens: The Motion Picture Industry's Participation in UFO Disinformation". Many of the things he said corresponded with things you have said. He said lots of the early movies like "I was a Teenage Werewolf" and "The Manchurian Candidate" contain actual classified info. on mind control, and movies like "The Thing" contain classified Roswell info. He has documented everything, including backgrounds of various producers, screenwriters, etc. and found military, CIA, connections, etc. He believes many "alien" movies are designed specifically to release disinformation, and also commented that "the defense industry puts a lot of false abductions out there." He also has documented that Reagan was shot with a lead azide poison exploding bullet that didn't explode. These are CIA issued weapons. He talked about Jimmy Carter and other presidents being intimidated into avoiding the UFO issue, and said that considering the JFK assassination, they all stay quiet. He mentioned that Carter put $20 million into "UFO research" and, coincidentally, "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" cost $20 million. He also said that Spielberg was advised by NASA not to make "ET", "The Day the Earth Stood Still" got no "Army/Govt." cooperation because the ET was friendly and our military attacked it, and that our astronauts are told not to talk about UFOs/ETs they have seen or they'd be humiliated, intimidated, or worse, and Carl Sagan had been told the same thing.
