

To: [REDACTED]

Date: 3/8/98, 10:20 PM

Re: Steven Hawking admits possibility of UFO coverup (live from the White House)

[REDACTED]

Friday night [REDACTED] and I caught a brief clip on the late night NBC news in LA that had us looking at each other.

Professor Steven Hawking ("A Brief History of Time" etc.) talking about ET's live from the White House, with Bill and Hillary Clinton looking on.

We searched the next day's papers, and, yes, Prof. Hawking had been giving a talk (covered on C-Span and the Internet) in the White House's Millennium Series entitled "Imagination and Change: Science in the Next Millennium". However, all the AP report summary mentioned was some routine pabulum about the event and future changes, with none of the guts of the talk included.

I was able to find the talk archived on Real Audio, and here is part of what Steven Hawking said (around the 9 minute mark for those of you that want to play it off the Website).

After comments about the growth of both population and scientific knowledge....

"Clearly the present exponential growth cannot continue indefinitely. So what will happen? One possibility is that we wipe ourselves out completely by some disaster such as a nuclear war.

"There is a sick joke that the reason we have not been visited by extra-terrestrials is that when a civilization reaches our stage of development it becomes unstable and destroys itself.

"Of course it is possible that UFO's really do contain aliens as many people believe, and the Government is hushing it up. I wouldn't like to comment on that.

"Personally I believe there is a different explanation why we have not been contacted, but I won't go into it here.

"However, even without that, there is a very real danger that we will kill everything on this planet now that we have the technological power to do so. Even if we don't destroy ourselves completely, there is a possibility that we might descend into a state of brutalism and barbarity like the opening scene of "Terminator".

The talk, which is excellent, can be found at http://www.sun.com/newmedia/whitehouse/stephen_hawking.html