

0000

los primeros
cuatro focos casi
en una línea recta.

A Blue Domed-Disc For Bolingbrook

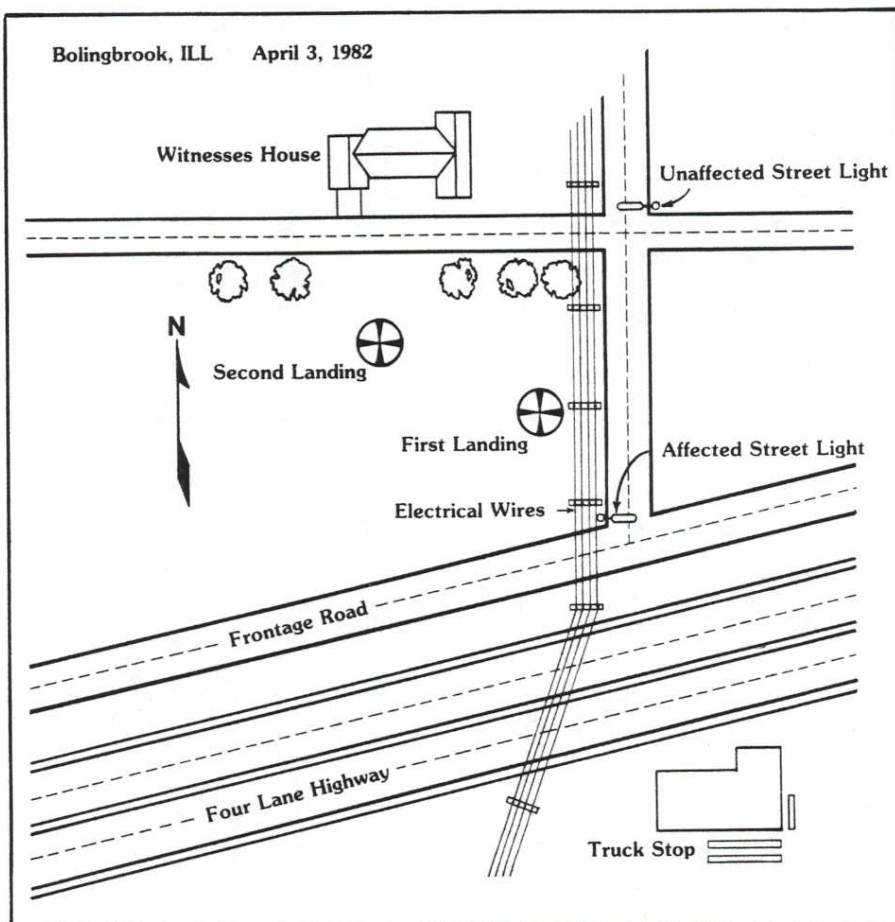

Cases selected for inclusion in this publication are chosen on the basis of their relevance to their potential value in advancing our knowledge of the UFO phenomenon. Here is a case which may have such potential, since it describes a disc which was not seen until it "manifested" on the ground, its arrival having been noted only as a brilliant streak of light coming down from the sky. It is to wonder (Ed. note).

TYPE: CE-I
DATE: Saturday, April 3, 1982
TIME: About 3 A.M.
DURATION: Intermittent over 2½ hr. period
WITNESSES: 1 + 4
PLACE: Bolingbrook, IL (Suburb of Chicago)

After a full week of teaching bilingual classes in a Chicago school, [REDACTED] was looking forward to a restful weekend in her suburban home. Instead, she got very little rest, received quite a fright from recurring UFO events, and discovered how futile it is to call official agencies for help in such a situation.

[REDACTED] had gone to bed after an evening watching TV. At about 3 A.M. she was awakened by a peculiar sound ... "like a blender running in a box," and the wall of the bedroom was illuminated by a bright blue light. This lasted for about 5 seconds (after she was awake), stopping abruptly. Within ten minutes, the light and distinct buzzing recurred twice more...each time lasting about 5 seconds.

[REDACTED] got up, expecting to see a police car in the area, or possibly an accident on the highway. The weather was cloudy and very windy, with falling temperature. She saw a car and a truck pass on the highway (see sketch), but nothing unusual happened until about 3:20 A.M. when a slow moving truck came to a full stop on the highway, apparently reacting to the same thing she suddenly saw...a brilliant streak of light coming down from the sky into a vacant lot some 80 yards away. The streak quickly transformed into a domed disc with blue lights around the rim, which remained on or near the ground for 1 or 2 seconds, lighting up the area. It then rose so rapidly that it could only be distinguished as a streak of light, making the distinctive buzzing sound. Fascinated, [REDACTED] continued to watch. Perhaps three minutes later, the same object descended at a slight angle, but more slowly...perhaps ten feet per second. It remained about a foot off the ground, closer this time, about 50 yards from the house. The actual size of the disc, based on [REDACTED] estimate of angles and distances, proves to be 27 feet in diameter. The blue lights, spaced evenly around the rim, with a ridge for each (see drawing), gave off a diffused light that illuminated the entire area, bright as day, at the same time striking [REDACTED] face, making her feel "as if I were being photographed by a TV camera." After watching the landed UFO for what seemed to be a number of seconds (but in re-enactment timed at 5 seconds), [REDACTED] became frightened and ran to awaken her two sons. This took about 13 seconds. By this time the UFO was no longer visible, but the blue light and sound remained (also witnessed now by [REDACTED] apparently got there too late to see anything).

7

██████ telephoned her sister in Chicago (time placed at "exactly 3:30 A.M." by her sister) and talked for a few minutes, until she calmed down. A few minutes later, the buzzing sound returned for at least 30 seconds, seemingly coming from directly overhead.

Now very upset, ██████ called the local police, who arrived in 5-8 minutes. They had cruised the area for 2 or 3 minutes in their two cars before they came to the door. They said they found nothing amiss (although one officer said he had seen a blue light in the sky) and suggested she keep her door locked (!) No formal report was filed, but the police records show "numerous calls around 3:50 A.M., reporting several power outages and blue flashes near the ground." The electric utility company apparently does not keep records of isolated power outages. ██████ house definitely did not experience a power failure at any time, as confirmed by an electric clock which reacts to any power interruption.

██████ and her sons talked for a few minutes and she made some instant coffee. At about 4 A.M. she lay down on the living room carpet, with her two sons on the couches. They were all scared and didn't want to sleep alone. ██████ was aroused again by the blue light and buzzing sounds, again apparently directly over the house, which lasted about a minute. Afraid whatever it was might hit the house, but afraid to look out the window again, ██████ phoned her sister once again (time estimated by sister as 3:50 A.M.). Although the sound and the light were still present during part of the call, ██████ sister did not pick up the buzzing over the phone. Once again the light and sound disappeared simultaneously. ██████ was still frightened, and she started to pray. At that point she saw a single explosion of blue light near the southern horizon which lasted just an instant.

Now ██████ called a major Chicago newspaper but was told that "there's nothing we can do."

Nothing more was seen or heard until almost daylight. At about 4:30 A.M. ██████ saw 5 blue lights in a straight line, either stationary or moving slowly toward the house, but high up. The lights were arranged as if they were a section of the UFO but no structure was seen; just the blue lights and the buzzing sound.

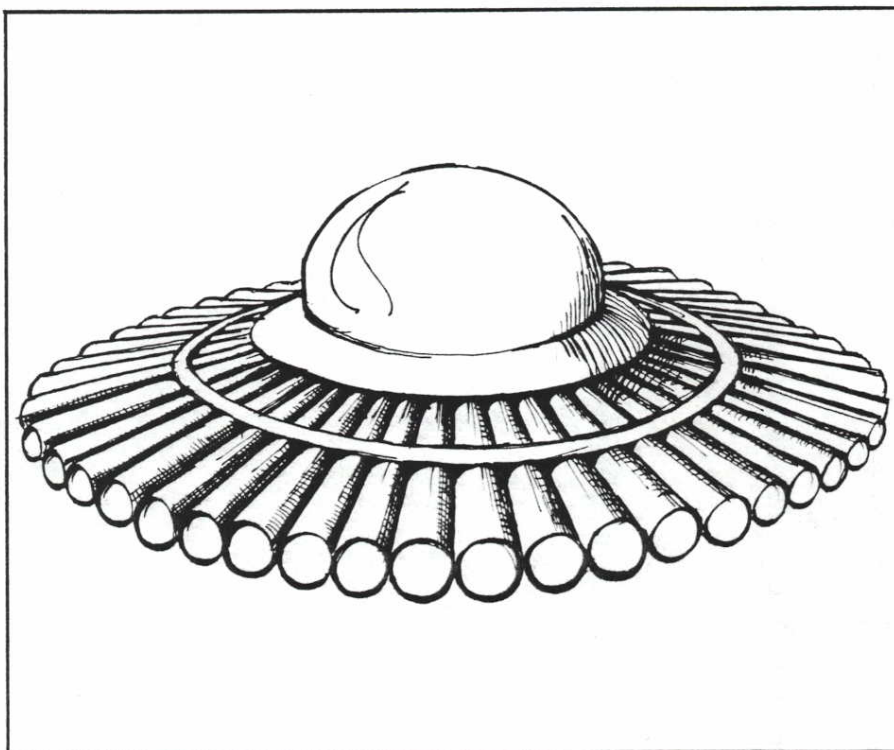

Of interest is that she saw the electrical wires on either side of the vacant lot sparking...large sparks were falling to the ground. Both her sons saw and heard this, and they also reported a luminous blue ball, whose diameter was estimated to be 9 feet, just higher than the wires, giving off sparks that appeared to fall through the wires. The buzzing sound stopped and then the ball dimmed and faded out. A neighbor youth was awakened by the buzzing sound and blue light. He placed the time at 4:35 A.M. because at that time he gets up to run his regular paper route. During the sparking episode the street light went out, and remained out. However, this particular aspect of the sighting is suggestive of electrical short circuits and electrical phenomena, but would have nothing to do with the reported landings of a craft in the open field.

Meanwhile, ██████ again called her sister, who places the time at about 4:35 A.M. She placed her last call to her sister at 5:10 A.M. and her sister arranged to spend the day with her. Together they later examined the landing sites, discovering what they took to be physical traces...matted grass at the nearer site and irregular bare spots at the more distant site. They took photos at the time.

Saturday evening they called the Air Force at Chicago's O'Hare airport and were told "it was a UFO." (Ed note: This would make a good story in itself!)

On Monday April 5 there was a heavy snow fall and when I first arrived two days later the area was still well-covered by snow. No unusual pattern

(over)

APRIL 3, 1982

CEI

BOLINGBROOK, IL

FOR BOLINGBROOK

A BLUE DOMED-DISC

APPEARED IN:
IUR
VOL 7, No.4.

selected
(Italics:) Cases for inclusion in this publication are chosen on the basis of their relevance to their potential value in advancing our knowledge of the UFO phenomenon. Here is a case which may have such potential, since it describes a disc which was not seen until it "manifested" on the ground, its arrival having been noted only as a brilliant streak of light coming down from the sky. It is to wonder (Ed. note).

TYPE: CE I (END ITALICS)↑
DATE: Saturday, April 3, 1982
TIME: About 3 A.M. 2 1/2
DURATION: Intermittent over hr. period
WITNESSES: 1 + 4
PLACE: Bolingbrook, IL. (Suburb of Chicago)

After a full week of teaching bilingual classes in a Chicago school, was looking forward to a restful weekend in her suburban home with her sons, . Instead, she got very little rest, received quite a fright from recurring UFO events, and discovered how futile it is to call official agencies for help in such a situation.

had gone to bed after an evening watching TV. At about 3 A.M. she was awakened by a peculiar sound,... "like a blender running in a box", and the wall of the bedroom was illuminated by a bright blue light. This lasted for about 5 seconds (after she was awake), stopping abruptly. Within ten minutes, the light and distinct buzzing recurred twice more..each time lasting about 5 seconds.

XXXX got up, expecting to see a police car in the area, or possibly an accident on the highway. The weather was cloudy and very windy, with falling temperature. She saw a car and a truck pass on the highway (see sketch), but nothing unusual happened until about 3:20 A.M. when a slow moving truck came to a full stop on the highway, apparently reacting to the same thing she suddenly saw...a brilliant streak of light coming down from the sky into a vacant lot some 80 yards away. The streak quickly transformed into a domed disc with blue lights around the rim, which remained on or near the ground for 1 or 2 seconds, lighting up the area. It then rose so rapidly that it could only be distinguished as a streak of light, making the distinctive buzzing sound. Fascinated, XXXX continued to watch. Perhaps three minutes later, the same object descended at a slight angle, but more slowly... perhaps ten feet per second. It remained about a foot off the ground, closer this time, about 50 yards from the house. The actual size of the disc, based on XXXX estimate of angles and distances, proves to be 27 feet in diameter. The blue lights, spaced evenly around the rim, with a ridge for each (see drawing) gave off a diffused light that illuminated the entire area, bright as day, at the same time striking XXXX face, making her feel "as if I were being photographed by a TV camera". After watching the landed UFO for what seemed to be a number of seconds (but in re-enactment timed at 5 seconds), XXXX became frightened and ran to awaken her two sons. This took about 13 seconds. By this time the UFO was no longer visible, but the blue light and sound remained (also witnessed now by Edward; George apparently got there too late to see anything).

XXXX telephoned her sister in Chicago (time placed at "exactly 3:30 A.M. by her sister) and talked for a few minutes, until she calmed down. A few minutes later, the buzzing sound returned for at least 30 seconds, seemingly coming from directly overhead.

Now very upset, XXXXX called the local police, who arrived in 5-8 minutes. They had cruised the area for 2 or 3 minutes in their two cars before they came to the door. They said they found nothing amiss (although one officer said he had seen a blue light in the sky) and suggested she keep her door locked (!) No formal report was filed, but the police records show "numerous calls around 3:50 A.M., reporting several power outages and blue flashes near the ground^x." The electric utility company apparently does not keep records of isolated power outages. XXXXX house definitely did not experience a power failure at any time, as confirmed by an electric clock which reacts to any power interruption.

XXXXX and her sons talked for a few minutes and she made some instant coffee. At about 4 A.M. she lay down on the living room carpet, with her two sons on the couches. They were all scared and didn't want to sleep alone. XXXXX was aroused again by the blue light and buzzing sounds, again apparently directly over the house, which lasted about a minute. Afraid whatever it was might hit the house, but afraid to look out the window again, XXXXX phoned her sister once again (time estimated by sister as 3:50 A.M.). Although the sound and the light were still present during part of the call XXXXX sister did not pick up the buzzing over the phone. Once again the light and sound disappeared simultaneously. XXXXX was still frightened, and she started to pray. At that point she saw a single explosion of ^{blue} light near the southern horizon which lasted just an instant.

Now XXXXX called a major Chicago newspaper but was told that "there's nothing we can do^x."

Nothing more was seen or heard until almost daylight. ^{At} about 4:30 A.M. XXXXX saw 5 blue lights in a straight line, either stationary or moving slowly toward the house, but high up. The lights were arranged as if they were a section of the UFO but no structure was seen; just the blue lights and the buzzing sound.

Of interest is that she saw the electrical wires on either side of the vacant lot sparking...large sparks were falling to the ground. Both her sons saw and heard this, and they also reported a luminous blue ball, whose diameter was estimated to be 9 feet, just higher than the wires, giving off sparks that appeared to fall through the wires. The buzzing sound stopped and then the ball dimmed and faded out. A neighbor youth was awakened by the buzzing sound and blue light. He placed the time at 4:35 A.M. because at that time he gets up to run his regular paper route. During the sparking episode the street light went out, and remained out. However, this particular aspect of the sighting is suggestive of electrical short circuits and electrical phenomena, but would have nothing to do with the reported landings of a craft in the open field.

Meanwhile, XXXXX again called her sister, who places the time about 4:35 A.M. She placed her last call to her sister at 5:10 A.M. and her sister arranged to spend the day with her. Together they later examined the landing sites, discovering what they took to be physical traces...matted grass at the nearer site and irregular bare spots at the more distant site. They took photos at the time.

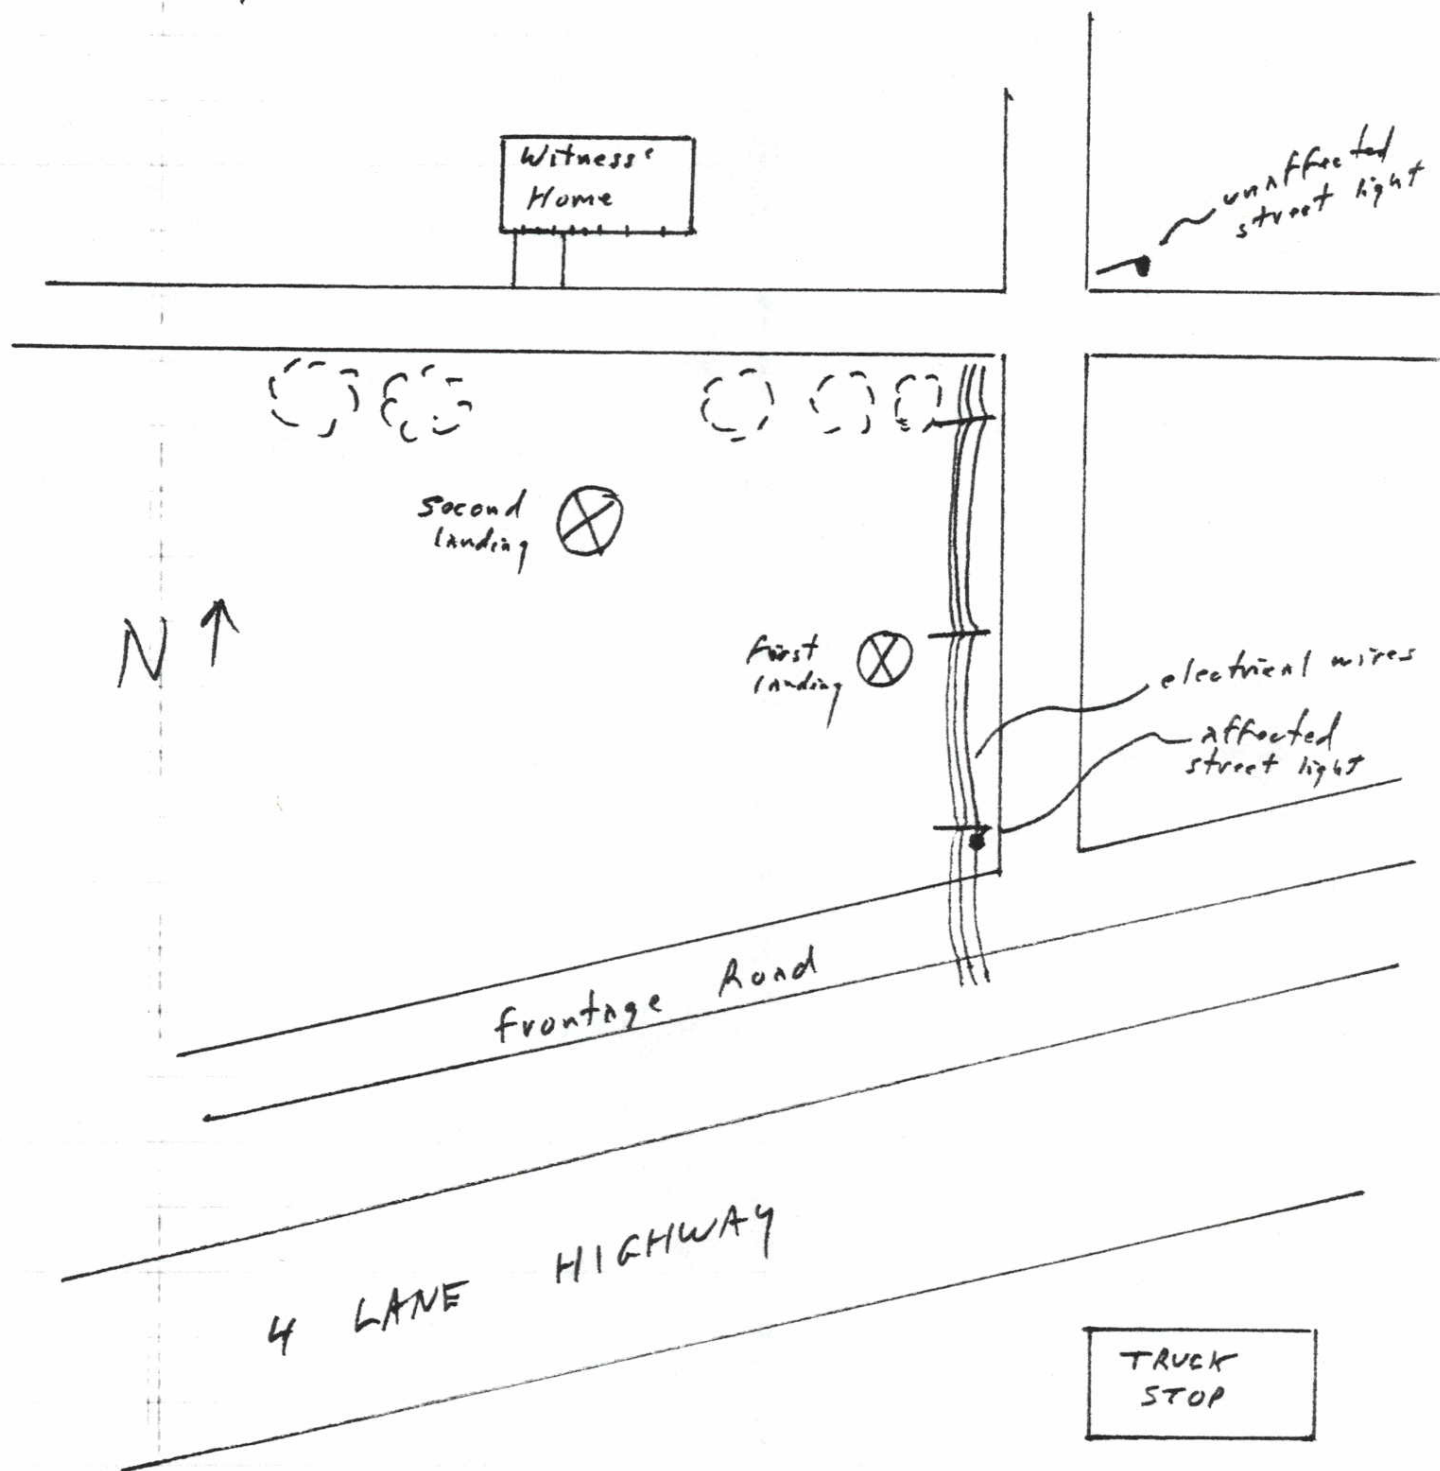

Saturday evening they called the Air Force at Chicago's O'Hare airport and were told "it was a UFO," (Ed note: This would make a good story in itself!)

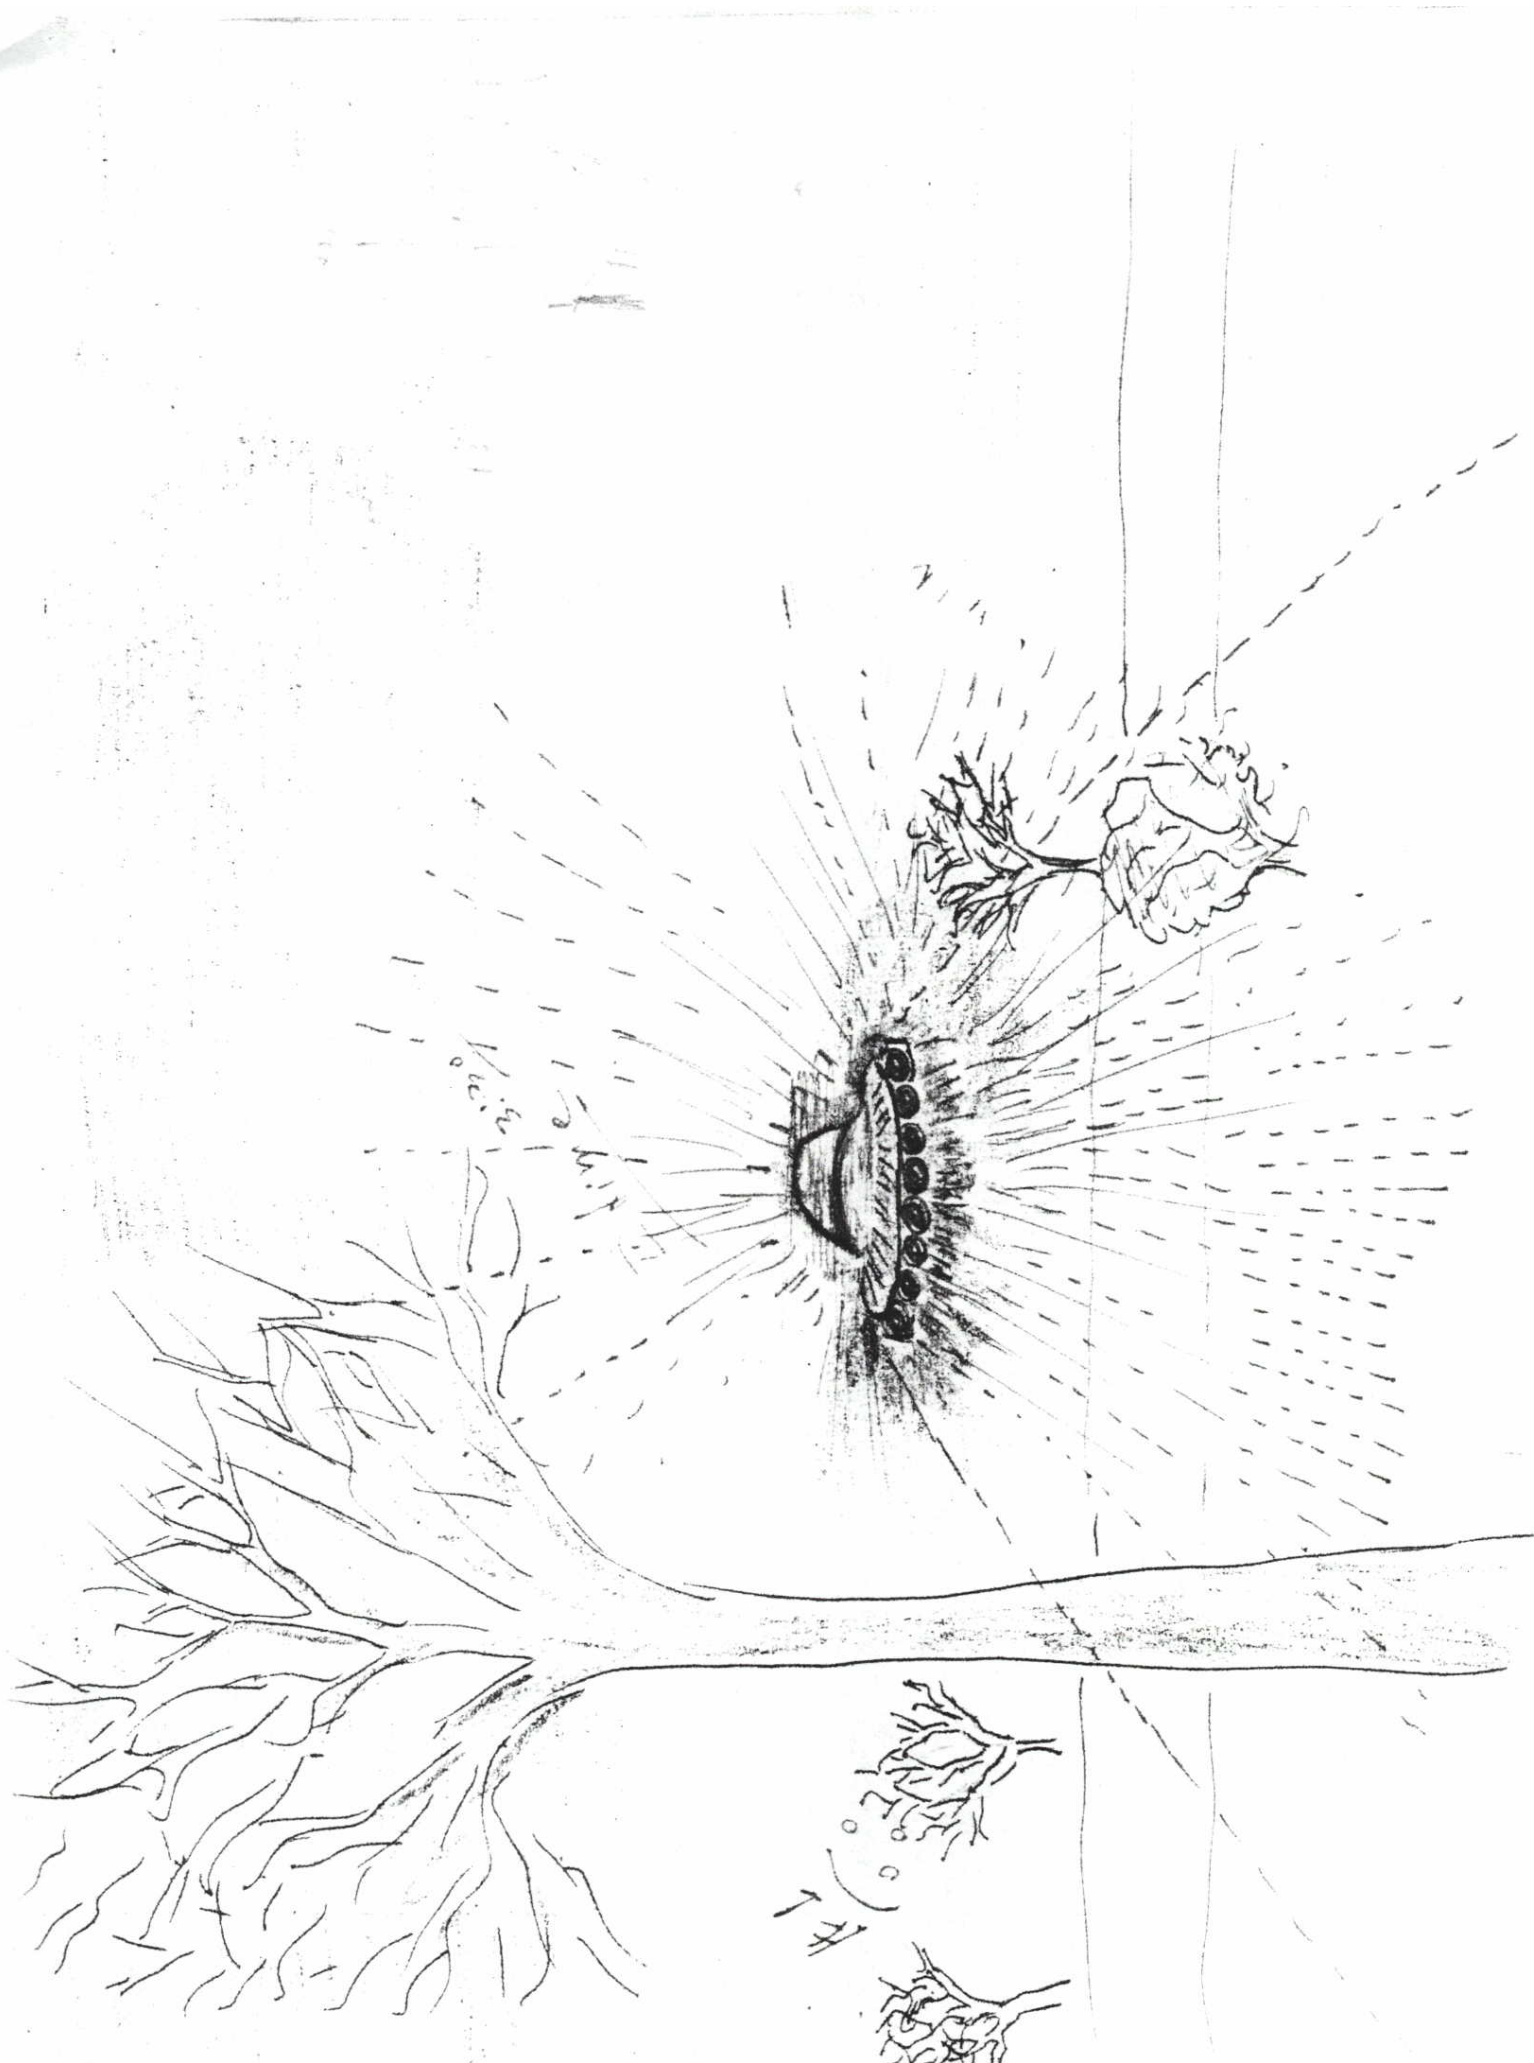

On Monday April 5 there was a heavy snow fall and when I first arrived two days later the area was still well-covered by snow. No unusual pattern was evident as the snow slowly melted and on April 15 when the snow was completely gone, XXXXX and I found everything quite normal. The photos taken on the day of the event showed nothing and the Center magnetometer registered only background readings XXXX remains quite interested in and concerned about the sightings, but is frustrated that no one could provide a satisfactory explanation or take any action. In this we can surely sympathize; unfortunately, it is a well-recognized characteristic of this unique field.

Bolingbrook IL April 3, 1982

April 3 1982 about 3:30