Oberg -

 >>What a load of self-serving crap! Not to mention all the deliberate disinformation and outright inventions.<<

Oberg is still deceiving people into thinking that he worked for NASA. On his recent ABC News webpage debunking STS-48 it said he was a long time "Ex-NASA employee." When confronted about this li'l glitch recently on AOL,  never responded. He worked for Rockwell Corp., a NASA private contractor, and has never worked directly for NASA. Think ABC News will post a retraction or clarification? Btw, a few years ago  posted his bio on the internet newsgroups. Said he's done work for SAIC, but never said what he did.

ABC News bought Oberg's "L5D bounceback" theory for STS-48. Case Closed ! They also mis-represented him as a former NASA employee, and Oberg seemingly allowed that to happen. This is what he's always done. That's why the bru-ha-ha occurred a few years ago pressing him for his credentials. Some things never change.
