Dear [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] called yesterday and asked Steve to forward you some materials. Steve asked me to send these. They are in a rough state in terms of presentation, but the information is there. The Briefing Document really gives an overview of what CSETI is about. The Project Starlight Overview provides the information about the disclosure strategy. You may give these documents to [REDACTED] in trusted confidence and may make and keep a copy for yourself, also in confidence. Please feel free to call Steven directly at the number below if you need more information or clarification. Steven asked me to express to you his gratitude for your willingness to assist and to give your testimony. Thank you. Thank you.

Will said that your chemotherapy was going well. We certainly hope so and wish you much health.

Most sincerely,
In Peace,

[REDACTED]

Re: Response Strategy

Steve,

Good to talk to you. Look forward to seeing you next week in D.C.

Am eager to assist in developing a cogent and effective response strategy. Until I have more info, I'm reluctant to give too much advice. However, I offer the following preliminary thoughts:

- We should not seek any proactive association or linkage with the cult tragedy. The story is so strongly negative any association with us would be strongly negative. We could not achieve any positive positioning in this context.

- There MUST be only one spokesman at this juncture -- YOU! All others who are likely to receive media queries should be instructed to take the reporter's name, media, number, deadline and nature of question. The CSETI member should then contact you and report the query. The member should NOT simply refer the reporter to you. This will give you a chance to prepare if only briefly before returning the reporter's call.

- In addition to a brief statement that you should have prepared, we need to anticipate all of the toughest questions we can think of look at this from our detractors' perspective. We should then prepare appropriate answers and coach you on them.

I will get a copy of USN&WR as soon as I can to check the reportage on last week's interview. Let's discuss that ASAP.

Here are my current best phone numbers: [REDACTED] (H),
