Dear Jimmy Carter Library:

I would like to confirm the following account:

President Jimmy Carter in 1977 contacted the head of the CIA (at that time George Bush) to release to him what material that agency had with regard to UFOs.

President Carter was told that he did not have a "need to know" and, therefore, his request was refused.

President Carter was further informed by Bush that if he wanted the material he would have to contact Congress and have the Science and Technology Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives get the U.S. Library of Congress to give over to the Committee the requested documents which were classified so that the committee could prepare a report for the president. (Either that or the documents would need to be declassified.)

Is this substantially correct?

Thank you for your help on this matter and I look forward to your reply.

Sincerely,
