with or contacted American Computer Company" or claiming "to be working on behalf of (any of ACC's staff)" and verify it first.x False representations of a relationship to a popular or well known business is a common scam used to disrupt or con the public and interfere in private matters or to claim some kind of fraudulent or misrepresentative business offer.x Remember "C-U-V It": Contact Us first and Verify IT !!

We shall provide the public with further information and news about certain people who are harassing, trying to intimidate, stalk and extort American Computer Company personnel, in the near future.x Obviously, the timing suggests a strong relationship between the crimes being committed against our personnel, and ACC's effort to investigate and further develop facts regarding the Roswell 1947 story and the alleged transfer of technology to Bell Labs.
