INTERCEPTS SPECIAL REPORT AARDVARK, APRIL & APACHE

Military Identifiers Summer 93

By Steve, Teresa & Jennifer Douglass

It is the middle of summer and it can only mean one thing to military monitors. Time to update the callsign and military identifier listings. This summer's listing are bigger than ever before. So big that we don't have room for our regular columns! Never fear though, The High Desert Report, In the Wings and I.F.F. will be back next month.

Keep in mind as you read through the listings, the many Intercepts monitors who contributed to it. Their sharp ears and analytic instincts are typical of our readership. They should be highly commended.

Intercepts would especially like to thank Robert Kelty (author of Military Radio Systems) and John Clark (a most excellent monitor) for their exhaustive callsign lists. Much of what you read is due to their hard work. I also want to take time to thank the newest member of our staff, Jennifer Douglass, (yes, she is related). Who spent many hours typing in the hundreds of listings you see before you. Thanks Jennifer!

Well, the list is long, so we better get to it. When scouring the list for the callsign you just monitored, keep in mind that it is not complete nor will it ever be. We need your help in keeping all who share our unique hobby informed of the latest military information. If you can't identify the station heard, chances are someone out there can, so send it in to Intercepts. That's why we have included callsigns that list as their description "??". If you have the answer, WE WANT TO KNOW!

The Guide to the AR1000

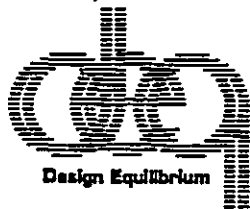

The Guide to the AR1000 is a complete, 90-page guide to understanding and using the AOR AR1000 family of wide-range hand-held scanners.

The Guide covers all models of the AR1000 and is organized into four major parts: Operations, Applications, Accessories, and Reference. It comes with ten scan channel templates and a handy Quick Reference Card that fits conveniently in your wallet. Monitoring Times Magazine says "This is the ultimate owner's manual" - April 1992.

The Guide to the AR1000--$14.95, plus $3.50 shipping and handling. California residents please add 8.25% state sales tax (total $19.68).

Custom Leather Cases for the PRO-39/43/44

We now offer custom-designed genuine leather cases made especially for the Radio Shack PRO-39, PRO-43, and PRO-44 family of handheld scanners. The scanner slips easily into the case, even with the belt clip installed. These cases fit snugly and are designed to remain
