Subject: President's ET comments today - 11-2-96

from: f[REDACTED]

I was listening to New York radio station WCBS (News) at approx. 7PM today when a segment on President Clinton apparently speaking from Little Rock, Arkansas was run. He made some comment like ".....and aliens are here from outer space." I don't know if this was a joke or a freudian slip in his speech, but it is interesting in the light of his several other comments on the subject:

1- In Ireland, when he responded to a (?) small boy (real?) that, he knew nothing about Aliens crashing at Roswell, but he would like to know about it.

2- One or more comments related to the film "Independence Day".

You will recall that President Reagan brought up this subject half a dozen times or so in his speeches.

Today's speech may have been part of the Texas speech from today. The alien comment may have linked back to something Senator Dole is alleged to have said, along the lines of something like: ".....if you believe that (something President Clinton said) ... then you believe that the government knows about UFOs..."

A good researcher could let us know of the speech texts and contexts. Based on Senator Dole's alleged concerns about a pilot who may have asked him about UFOs, it would seem that both candidates are in on the joke. How about letting the rest of us in on the joke too.
