In a stunning development, Brazilian Physics Professor [REDACTED] released the results of a comparatively simple experiment successfully conducted in the laboratory at Maranhao State University earlier this year that conclusively demonstrates anti-gravity principles.

And this is no minor league player, as Professor de Aquino has published papers that are archived on the Los Alamos National Laboratory Website. In addition, Brazil is one of only three Nations that possesses the creme-de-la-creme of covert scalar EM weaponry, the fearsome quantum potential weapons, so their science has been world class for decades.

Indeed, this is where one of the world's greatest physicists, David Bohm, found residence after he was kicked out of the United States.

To quote from the Conclusion of Professor de Aquino's paper:

.....So, we can easily conclude that the gravitational forces can be reduced, nullified and inverted by means of electromagnetic radiation."

The paper can be downloaded in Acrobat format from the CSETI Website at <http://www.cseti.org/position/addition/brazil-gravity.pdf>

This concept has also been further developed to its logical conclusion, a Gravitational Spacecraft, on a well-illustrated Website co-authored by Professor de Aquino at <http://members.aol.com/jnaudin509/systemg/html/gravcraft.htm>

Don't let your eyes glaze over at the formulae, just read the narrative, and you will get the gist of what is going on - especially when you look at the incredible blip on the graph where the interior of the apparatus at a specific current, to quote from the Paper,

.... doesn't interact gravitationally with the Universe, and consequently, there can be no gravitational interaction between the matter inside the toroid (a doughnut shape) and the rest of the Universe."

So in the civilian sector we now pick up in the year 2000 where the Philadelphia Experiment started in 1944 (with direct assistance from Nikola Tesla and Albert Einstein)!

And, by the way, the results of THAT, according to a good source, will probably be declassified in 2002.

Stay tuned.... to CSETI.
