Hi Steven,

Finally I found your card as misplaced since back from DC, now I can write what we discussed last phone conversation.

Yes, could be interesting and trascendental organize an epedition to the chilean regions /habitats for the 'Gentiles', the cousins and brothers of [REDACTED] creature.

As I told you I researched the incident during the last five years as my recurrent visits to Chile, for lecturing, exploration and tv production.

You could see the program 'Destination: Truth'... Alien Mummies, where I brough the american crew for several week to explore and film the ufological /paranormal lore of Northern Chile.

During that trip and another I did for 'Open Minds' in mission to retrieve physical evidence on ufological cases with physical traces or humanoids, I explore many towns and regions where the stories of the Gentiles's specie/ race are living example of a reality beyond and besides the legendary or probatory myth.

From structures to oral testimony, from archaeological and anthoopological remains to carving and rock paintings, the Universe of this creatures is a parallel reality should have major research and investigation.

Here is the reference, history and photo of the other being that almost bought in 2010....

Take a look of all this... and give me ur feedback... I have detailed info of the locations... and videologs... also I already put to work my assocaites and friend to look about the mine with the creatures sitting in a kind of an altar... Im not giving up to find that location..

Cheers,
