As you asked, here is the link where [REDACTED] says that he has started to receive threats.

In this link, which is the home page for the [REDACTED] yahoo group, the description says:

This forum is for people who want to learn about and build and test [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] Magnetic Window Motor/Energizer. This Energizer is able to either charge batteries and capacitors while doing mechanical work, or it is able to run purely off of a capacitor while doing the same. This list is for educational purposes only. Experiment at your own risk.

The [REDACTED] he talks about is the [REDACTED] who has this video which shows a modified Bedini-Cole motor not running on a battery or capacitor, but charging a capacitor. In [REDACTED] video, he shows shorting out the capacitor so that it is starting discharged, but is then charged by the device. [REDACTED] says that he has had the device spinning like this for three hours. The URL for [REDACTED] video is:
