Good evening Dr. Greer support team,

My name is [REDACTED], and I would like to share a few things with you securely is there a way that I can share my experiences with you securely? I was part of a private contracting group back in 2000 called Alset Technologies Group LLC which it all was migrated into Nano Light Production Labs LLC. What was significant about all this is I helped build up the group in the commercial arena and was a quiet observer who worked with [REDACTED] in former NASA yellow team nano tech scientist who worked with John Shelbourne at US Navy Captone direct liason to Admiral Cebrowski and former dual Congressional Nominee and retired US Marshal who worked with Gary Wean former LAPD and Veteran. They were a tight knit group that investigated many things I met them all in 2000 and years later well they are all retired in the sense they are physically not here anymore and out of this group we'll I'm still here to share and have been contemplating what should I share and how should I share it for years due to the sensitivity of everything including my own personal encounters I've had. I just wish to do this very quietly but it is a piece of the story that just helps validate a few things that may help you and your team. I don't mind being anonymous about it and just need to do this properly simply because yes it needs to be shared in a proper manner so please let me know a way to share a few things and experiences it may help you or at least perhaps validate a few and question a few more.
Thank you for your time and help.
