The Edwards Air Force Base Encounter

Audiotape from Independent International Pictures Corp., 400 Perrine Rd., Old Bridge, NJ 09957, 1996.
$14.95 plus $2 s/h

On October 7, 1965, a number of luminous objects appeared in the sky near Edwards Air Force Base, near Lancaster in northern Los Angeles County. For six hours, radar technicians and other military personnel at Edwards and four other bases discussed what they saw. Now declassified, the tapes of those conversations have been electronically cleaned up and skillfully edited into a 54-minute audiotape.

The officers reported witnessing unidentified objects changing colors, sitting stationary in the sky and then shooting straight up very fast. The actual conversations are appropriately broken up with narration to describe what is going on, since considerable jargon sometimes renders segments unintelligible, even when you can hear the words. One of the primary voices during the original event, which was code-named "The Incident," was of Tech. Sgt. Charles Sorrels, who summarizes for listeners what he and his colleagues witnessed that night. They knew all kinds of aircraft and natural phenomena, and the UFOs did not fit anything they were familiar with.

Finally, they decide to get the "UFO officer" out of bed, who makes the decision to scramble some jets. The pilots went up for a closer look and made radar contact with solid objects, and there the mystery ends. What they actually found is still classified. The tapes offer yet more compelling evidence that whatever the phenomenon is, it is not a product of human imagination. —Scott S. Smith

"support groups," or build a book around, but certainly not enough to prove the claims.

Personally, it is my hope that Huyghe's often thought-provoking comments, which bracket the alien observation anecdotes, will encourage at least some readers to make a more realistic assessment of their own beliefs in reports of alien encounters. If that happens, this book will have made a useful contribution to saucerian literature.

File Edwards Tape

April 22, 1997

Dear Steven,

I have enclosed 12 copies of the "EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE ENCOUNTER" for your use with my compliments.

As we discussed by phone, this is a unique copyrighted program, and you will note the attached background information on it.

I am currently working on a book and 2 hour TV documentary on the same subject.

I would appreciate proper credit being given for this work anytime it is used.

I will be glad to help you out with additional copies in the future if requested.

When you are next in New York City, please call me and we can get together.

I have other visual materials which may be of help to you as well.

Best regards.

Cordially,

Sam Sherman

BACKGROUND STORY on "THE EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE ENCOUNTER"

"THE EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE ENCOUNTER" is a 54 minute Audio Documentary constructed from original research, de-classified official Department of the Air Force audio recordings, newly recorded interview recordings plus special editing, computer enhancement of archival materials and descriptive narration.

The story this documentary tells is of an actual UFO Military Alert at Edwards Air Force Base in California on the night of October 7, 1965. Also involved were the following Air Force Bases - GEORGE, NORTON, HAMILTON and MARCH, plus the Western Air Defense Command and NORAD.

During this event, strange luminous objects flew low over the runway at EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE and planes were sent up after them. The objects were no known objects to the military personnel at Edwards, where exotic classified military aircraft fly. The people there were well aware of government projects and known phenomena. The luminous objects exhibited Aerial Technology beyond any known Technology of the time. Recordings of voice transmissions from BASE TO BASE COMMUNICATIONS, GROUND TO AIR, TOWER TO AIR and PHONE PATCHES were made under order of Major Struble of LOS ANGELES AIR DEFENSE SECTOR. These recordings archived the conversations which documented this event of UFO visitation of a Highly Secure Military Base. The recordings were made on an extra track on the Radar Tapes, used to record radar signals and saved when accidents took place.

Out of a possible 40 hours of recorded materials during the night of October 7, 1965 - this was a five hour event recorded for its duration from at least 8 recording positions - six hours of materials were made available by the Department of the Air Force. These six hours of tapes were deliberately chopped up out of sequence with additional noise overlayed and much key material deleted. Those historians hearing the six hours of tape as de-classified could make no sense out of them at all.

During the research phase of a film project on the UFO phenomenon, film producer Samuel M. Sherman obtained the six hours of tapes. He felt there was a story buried in the confusing audio jumble. For eight months he analyzed the tapes, learned about Air Force history and identified most of the voices on the tapes, and where they were located. With the help of Tech Sgt. Charles Sorrels (ret.) the tower operator on the original recordings, who started the alert, he pieced the story together. Research from 12 military agencies, plus retired Air Force Intelligence officers helped clarify the event and Sherman put about an hour of the original tapes together in chronological order, with narration by veteran announcer Jackson Beck to explain what was happening to the listener. With the addition of newly composed music by Harry Barber and signal processing the archival materials in computer a new, clear story emerged, which became a unique and exclusive copyrighted project.

The Edwards Air Force Base Encounter: The U.S. Air Force vs. UFOs
Audiocdocumentary produced by Samuel M. Sherman, Independent International Pictures Corp., N.J., 1995; 54' mins.

No one reading this needs further proof of the reality of UFOs—but perhaps your friends do? If so, pay attention to the newly issued audio documentary, "The Edwards Air Force Base Encounter."

"Come over to my place," you tell your friends. "I've got something to play for you." You know the friends I mean—the ones who get a pained expression on their faces everytime you bring up the subject of UFOs.

"What's that?" they want to know.

You answer nonchalantly. "Oh, just a tape of some Edwards Air Force Base guys, 1965, wondering what they're going to do about the 12 UFOs that have been sitting over the base for the last five hours.

"Air traffic people, officers, pilots, people like that," you add, "talking about objects they're seeing on three kinds of radar, that military people from 50 miles around Edwards are on roof tops watching, objects with red, green, and white flashing lights about 5,000 feet over the runway at Edwards. They're saying the objects are 'definitely not moving' fast enough or constant enough to be aircraft,' and they're asking each other, 'Should we send up a fighter jet to have a closer look?'"

"Just Edwards' guys," you tell your friends, "on the phone, on base radio, and talking to the fighter pilot in the air, going through the drill with each other: Do you see what I see? Is it birds, planes, weather balloons? What the hell is that, anyway?"

"Real military guys?" your friends ask.

"Sounds like a genuine Air Force tape to me," you answer. "Your tax dollars at work. It certainly wasn't recorded by a 'yoo-fologist.'"

Next night your friends show up. They've got the same smirk on their faces they always have, same condescending smile. But this time you're ready.

Adjust the dials on your stereo surround sound with the fancy woofers and tweeters, or just drag out your boom box, turn the lights down, play this 54-minute tape for your friends, and watch their jaws drop. No more smirks now. They'll be stunned and so will you when you hear "The Edwards Air Force Base Encounter: the U.S. Air Force vs. UFOs," just released by Independent International Pictures Corp. of New Jersey. This tape is dynamite, and at $17 it's a "must have."

Remember the UFO incursions over military bases documented in Clear Intent by Fawcett & Greenwood?

This tape is of an event like that — October 7, 1965, over Edwards AF Base in California, 1:30 AM to 7 AM. The Air Force called it "The Incident," and recorded all the phone and radio calls associated with the event. New Jersey film maker Sam Sherman found the tape in the open literature.

Sherman, who owns Independent Intl., spent nearly a year turning the original six hours of raw audio into a documentary, complete with music and narration. Sherman also had the sound digitally enhanced. His biggest enhancement, however, was locating Chuck Sorrels, the air traffic controller on duty at Edwards during the 1965 event, and heavily involved in it.

In 1965, Sorrels (now retired) was a tech sergeant/air controller attached to the 1925th Communications Squadron at Edwards. He vectored the F106-fighter launched that morning about 5 AM. By then the UFOs had ascended to 40,000 feet and Sorrels directed the pilot from the images on his radar screen. You can hear him on the 1965 portion talking to the pilot, and also in the documentary portion making a statement recorded May 1995 in which he confirms the reality of the Edwards UFO incident and the authenticity of the tapes. If there was any doubt about the bona fides of the Edward's tape, Sorrels' statement resolves it.

A number of other personnel on the tape are identified by name, and various elements of the AF command are also identified. Indeed, it's clear from the tape that the upper levels of command are familiar with UFOs. And that's interesting, but it's not what's important about this tape. What's important about the Edwards tape is its dramatic and undeniably real audio. We already had paper (documentary) proof of such incidents from Clear Intent. But with this tape we now have the sound of the live, actual military response to a UFO incursion and if that's not proof that UFOs are real and the military knows it, I don't know what is.

Listen to the tape and it's obvious the Air Force isn't chasing geese. You hear the guys rule out every known object, one by one. The radar returns show the UFOs are solid, physical objects, and when they get visual and radar confirmation of objects hovering at 5,000 feet and taking off at enormous speeds, they classify the UFOs as "Special 13 —Unsafe targets."

What about your father-in-law? He's the one who always makes fun of you at family gatherings because you're a "UFO nut." If he's a veteran, he's going to have a very hard time dismissing this compelling tape.

The "Edwards Air Force Base Encounter" is $14.95 plus $2 s&h, and can be ordered from Independent Intl Pictures Corp., Mail Order Div., Dept. T, PO Box 565, Old Bridge, N.J. 08857. Listen up and — watch their jaws drop!

If the chupacabra came north, it would probably land at Edwards. The familiar double boom means a space shuttle, diverted from Florida because of bad weather, is returning home to this Mojave Desert base, which is built on a dry lake bed, the world's largest naturally occurring flat area. Chuck Yeager first broke the sound barrier here in 1947, and experimental aircraft known only by their alphanumeric designations—YF-12A, XB-70A, X-15—laced the skies. Then things got weird. Declassified recordings of a six-hour interaction in 1965 between Edwards pilots and what some described as extraterrestrials became the basis for a cult-classic audiocassette, The Edwards Air Force Base

A former commanding general at Edwards privately told a confidant that President Dwight Eisenhower had met with aliens there, though skeptics have undercut that account. Next came reports of a dead Bigfoot found in the vicinity of a crashed saucer. Could it have been looking for Area 51? Established as a practice range in 1933, the base was first called Muroc Bombing and Gunnery Range. Later renamed for test pilot Glen W. Edwards, who died there in 1948, it is located 100 miles—as almost anything flies—from Los Angeles. —S.S.S.

Review of "THE EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE ENCOUNTER"

from BABY BOOMER COLLECTIBLES Magazine -- October 1995

Audio Evidence of UFOs!

On the evening of October 7, 1965, while a large number of scientists were gathered at Edwards Air Force Base in California for tests of rocket aircraft for possible space travel, UFOs were sighted overhead by the Air Force personnel in the air tower. Visibility and radar sightings were strong enough that the Air Force scrambled a F-106 Interceptor and alerted Army Air Defense Command. Now, a 54-minute long audio documentary of the incident is available, utilizing formerly classified Air Force audio recordings of the event. Woven into narration and confirming interviews by personnel on-site at the time, including Tech Sgt. Charles Sorrels who was in the tower and witnessed the UFO, The Edwards Air Force Base Encounter - The U.S. Air Force vs. UFOs is a gripping listening experience.

I recommend a personal stereo with headphones for the best experience, because even though the tapes have been enhanced, they're still radio transmissions. Listen to the pilot, the tower, and the Air Force. Whether you buy into UFOs or not, this tape will grip your imagination. $14.95 + $2.00 shipping, Independent-International Pictures Corp., Mail Order Division - BB, P.O.
