Email Body: Dear Dr. Greer,

I first want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for what you have been doing. I cannot express strongly enough how much I agree with everything you have done and are doing.

I will keep this short but I feel the need to reach out.

I am a PhD physicist - trained in theoretical high energy physics. You can verify my identity with a quick google search. If you are looking for trained scientists to help in some way with any type of theoretical/statistical/simulation type work when the time comes, I believe I can be of use. I will even volunteer my time (for now at least i have a job -at least until the $$ bites the dust). I am based in the DC area. I want to help bring this new technology to fruition in any way that i can. I hope this reaches you Best Wishes, Thanks again.
