Subject: Atacama Being Mystery Solved?

Hi Steve and Emily,

I have been reading a lot about Atacama being mystery being solved and that the results have determined it to be 22 week human fetus with DNA mutations and deformities uncommon to a human.

Now, this new genome results seem to suggest a human and no possible leanings toward a possible extraterrestrial origin. I have included the White Paper posted by [REDACTED]

<https://emerysmith.net/blog/atacamawhitepaper> with the results.

My query to you is does this satisfy your original investigations and conclusion into this odd little humanoid?

I heard via the internet that [REDACTED] was threatened by an intelligence agency that he could loose his tenure at Stanford University if he didn't conclude a human explanation over a possible ETI explanation, is this true? Can you provide details?

Emery Smith seems to support [REDACTED] results, is [REDACTED] no longer working with you in CSETI? He has been doing a lot of interviews for GAIA on Facebook with David Wilcock, were you aware of Emery's recent disclosure testimony with Wilcock before he was interviewed or is this all a new revelation to you?

Respectfully,

[REDACTED]
