

Sept. 2, 1996

Dear Dr. Greer:

Having heard you on the Art Bell show on Sept. 1st, I decided to confide in you regarding an item found near a UFO crash site in New Mexico, which I found a year ago. I have been quietly investigating this object and have had it analyzed by infrared spectroscopy, which indicates that the object is of artificial material. The dark spots on the left of photo #1 (enclosed) are juniper oil and another unknown substance.

We also had it x-rayed on a mammography machine, and this showed lines inside, not unlike veins. I do not have a medical background, but I am sure this 28-gram (4½oz.) artifact had a medical use. Two forensic labs who have seen it think it was subjected to high heat in a fire or explosion of some kind. A duct or opening (which is two-walled) can be seen in the upper part of the device in photo #1.

I am a retired school teacher living near [redacted] Oregon. I was impressed by your pledge of confidentiality, on the Art Bell show. Right now I am at a crossroads as to which direction I should turn to pursue this matter. If C-SETI is interested in looking at this object or advising me, I would be quite grateful for assistance.

Sincerely,

Enc: 3
