

ASSESSMENT OF PURPORTED "TOP SECRET" DOCUMENT (SNOWBIRD)

1. The document in question is purportedly to be one (1) page of a larger document said to be seven (7) to nine (9) pages in length. The document is said to have been released VIA the "Freedom of information Act". However, this does not seem to be the case as the document is lacking down grading instructions, release authority, and release date. The document does not contain any reference as to the office or agency of origin and the document is undated.
2. The document is marked "TOP SECRET" at the top and bottom of the one page of the document. This is consistent with existing DOD and Departmental Regulations and Directives concerning marking of a classified document, requiring each page of the document to be stamped at the highest classification of the document at both the top and bottom of each page.
3. At the top of the one page is the marking, "SUB PROJECTS UNDER PROJECT". This would indicate that this is the first page of the document. Such markings are commonly used within the Intelligence Community. However, they are not common knowledge outside of the Intelligence Community.
4. Each paragraph on the document has the lead line "(TS/ORCON)". This indicates the classification of the information within the paragraph (TS - TOP SECRET) as well as indicating restrictions on reproduction, dissemination or extraction of the information contained in the paragraph (ORCON - DISSEMINATION AND EXTRACTION OF INFORMATION CONTROLLED BY ORIGINATOR).
5. Each project named in the document is followed by a "PROWORD". Once again the use of prowords or code words are common knowledge within the Intelligence Community. They are used to identify a certain project or operation.
6. According to the document, "PROJECT SIGMA" deals with communications with the "Aliens". Several points need to be considered here. (1) Within the Intelligence Community, "SIGINT" deals with Signal Intelligence. (2) The National Security Agency is in control of Signal Intelligence for the U.S. Government. (3) The National Security Agency presently has a classified project by the name of "Project Aquarius". (4) It is my understanding that the proword for "PROJECT SIGMA" is Aquarius. Taking the above four mentioned points into consideration, it would be easy to conclude that "PROJECT SIGMA" could be a reality.
7. The markings, "TOP SECRET" appear to have been over stamped at both the top and bottom the document with the word, "UNCLASSIFIED". The correct term should have been, "DECLASSIFIED" if in fact the document was released

VIA the "Freedom of Information Act". This bothered me, so I discussed this matter with Mr. Lee Graham. According to Mr. Graham, the DIS Agents that were investigating his involvement with the "Snowbird" Document, told Mr. Graham in the presence of Mr. Graham's Security Officer that the document appeared to have been released VIA the "Freedom of Information Act" therefore they had no objection to him having the document. In an effort to avoid further misunderstanding about the document, Mr. Graham's Security Officer over stamped the document with the only stamp he had to indicate that the document was no longer classified, that being the stamp with the phrase, "UNCLASSIFIED" on it.

8. The document is double spaced. This would indicate that the document was a draft document or outline. This would be consistent with existing DOD Directives and Regulations.

DISCUSSION

I have made every effort to confirm or expose as a hoax the "Snowbird" document for over two (2) year. I have written to every Intelligence agency I can think of requesting their comments on the document. While none of the agencies would confirm the document's authenticity, none of the agencies would deny its authenticity. I wrote to several Senators requesting their assistance in getting to the bottom of this document. Only one, The Honorable Senator Pete V. Domenici, has made any effort in assisting me in this matter. However, even his office was informed that the matter dealt with "National Security Policy". In response to my letter to Senator Domenici dated, April 8, 1987. The only items that the National Security Agency refused to discuss were in fact the items that dealt with the "Snowbird" document. This after asking that I rewrite my letter due to it dealing with, "National Security Policy". Every Intelligence Agency that I wrote, was required by the National Security Act of 1947, as amended in 1949 and current Executive Orders, to assume that the document was a "leaked" document and should have investigated it in an effort to determine if National Security had been breached regardless of the subject matter of the document. Although it would appear that the Defense Investigative Service (DIS) did do their duty according to existing regulations and directives, they have never made their findings public. Why?

CONCLUSIONS

If the "Snowbird" document is a hoax, then Federal Law has been violated under the National Security Act of 1947. However, I do not feel that this is the case. It is my conclusion that the document was leaked and not released under the "Freedom of Information Act". I feel the the Intelligence Community has chosen to take the stand that if inquiries are made concerning this document, they will simply disavow any knowledge of the document. Thereby avoiding the necessity of answering embarrassing questions concerning a "leaked" document that goes against the publicly official policy of the U.S. Government concerning UFO's. I feel that this document must be further researched and the U.S. Government must be queried more until we get some concrete answers.
