Thanks for the advice yesterday. I really do appreciate you taking as much time as you do to speak with me. My experiences are something I've grappled with for decades and it is such a weight off my shoulders that there is someone like yourself there to help. My best wishes and blessings to you and your family.

I'll have more drawings coming. I invested in some colored pencils. I see and remember things in full color. So I hope these images are helpful.

Yes, please do.

I have no issues with that. I've got some more drawings and I've been digging into my extended families dealings some.

Fallen down a bit of a rabbit hole here and I could use some advice.

Great speaking with you yesterday.

Is it ok if I share your case with the public with drawings so long as your name is left out ? I think doing so will encourage others like you to come forward. Thanks 🙏
