ADDENDUM

Shortly after I had sent a preliminary report of this incident to Mrs. [REDACTED] she wrote me back with the following:

"[REDACTED] rang me soon after her visit to the field where the grid was inscribed. As you know she felt so ill she was seriously frightened, believing she might have done irreparable damage to herself. She was that badly affected. I tested her on my pendulum which I use for healing and I have never seen it oscillate so wildly and chaotically. For several days it behaved in a manner quite unknown to me, and it did not finally seem satisfied with Marys' condition for almost ten days."

"Strangely enough I have seen a slide of a remarkable grid pattern just off the A303. I wonder if the grid (described in the report) could have materialised some distance away? No one else ever saw it except John Sayer (who) went into it several times and was almost hypnotised by it."
