RE: YOUR ARTICLE —

CANADIAN CONNECTION — YOUR DATING IMMEDIATELY ABOVE ILLUSTRATION #8 IS I THINK QUITE CONFUSING. YOU SHOULD CLARIFY THAT FIRST FLIGHT OF USAR/AURO DISC (WAS A V-TOL PROBABLY "SILVERBUL") OCCURRED IN MALTON IN 1955. OTHERWISE IT THROWS OFF PERPETUATING OF FLIGHTS IN 1947 WHEN THEY WERE IDENTIFIED IN MEDIA AS "FLYING SAUCERS".

ALSO CORRECT

"AIRCRAFT PERFORMANCE" IMMEDIATELY UNDER ILLUSTRATION #6. IT'S CLEAR THAT WHAT WAS BEING REPORTED WAS ONE OF THE SMALLER OF THE FOUR CRAFT SPECIFICALLY THE 46' DIAMETER MODEL.

PLEASE RECALL THAT I TOLD YOU THE APPROX 46' VERSION WAS IDENTIFIED AS ONE OF THOSE IN FORMATION WHEN FIRST SIGHTED. AND, ~~BOIC~~ BOIC TOLD ME IT WAS THE STANDARD "FIGHTER" SIZE BUT I CAN'T RECALL HIS PHRASING EXCEPT THAT HE WAS MENTIONING THAT DISCS WERE ^{BEING} MANUFACTURED FOR CONSIDERABLE VARIOUS USE ^{FOR} AIR FORCE WHEN FINALLY ACCEPTED INTO COMMISSION AS THEIR MAIN TYPE DESIGN, NONE WERE EVEN COMMISSIONED AND ALL REMAINED X⁴ AIRCRAFT ID. (NEVER KNOWN). AS WITH NORTHROP FLYING WING, THERE WERE CONSIDERABLE NUMBERS. HE HAD TO SCRAP CONSIDERABLE WINGS IN FRONT OF HIS FACTORY WHEN THAT GENERAL ORDERED IT DONE DUE TO B-36 TO BE BUILT INSTEAD.

(OVER)

I THINK YOU SHOULD USE YOUR NEW ILLUSTRATION OF THE 40' AS ILLUSTRATION #6 AND ILLUSTRATION #8 RATHER THAN THE 108'.

IT MIGHT BE BETTER IF YOU DOUBLE CHECK THE EXACT WING SPAN OF THE B-47 AS IT WAS NEAR 108' I THINK, BUT I'VE ALSO HEARD FROM "96-100". THE OIC COMPARED THE BIG DISC TO THE SIZE OF THE WINGSPAN OF THE B-47, WHEN I ASKED "HOW BIG".

LAST PAGE OF YOUR ARTICLE SHOULD BE CORRECTED FROM 100' DIAMETER CRAFT TO 40'.

OF ALL THE DISCS, THAT 40' WOULD BE MOST PROBABLY THE ONE KEPT AT WRIGHT-PATTERSON FROM WHAT AND HOW THE OIC DISCUSSED IT.

GEO FILED DISCOUNTED "BOT. 2" REPORT AS TOTALLY "UNRELIABLE" WHEN GEO FIRST TOLD ME ABOUT IT MANY YEARS AGO, AND OF COURSE THAT GENERAL AND GEORGE SEEMED TO KNOW ABSOLUTELY NOTHING ABOUT ANY RESTORATION BARGAIN FOR AIR FORCE MUSEUM, BECAUSE I SPECIFICALLY REQUESTED THEY CHECK SUCH OUT.

I ALSO RESEARCHED OFFUTT IN OMAHA!
I THINK FILLEN SPoke TO BOT 2 WHEN PHONE? I THINK FILLEN SPoke TO BOT 2 WHEN PHONE?
