

Dear Dr Steven Greer,

In reply to your inquiry, no I am not the author of that piece, it was a brief description of the NSRDC's PRD. Just receiving a new security level clearance, I came across that brief description of PRD. NSRDC is suppose to have envolved the PRD from alien contact. Looking at my transmission of the information shows that someone had interrupted the majority of information sent. The paragraphs regarding alien contact had been erased and any additional information seemed to have been deleted.

NSRDC Psychological Research Department

ELF AND PS1

ELF stands for extremely [low] frequency electromagnetic waves, from the very slow brain frequencies up to about 100 cycles per second.... Concrete evidence that electronic mind control was an object of study at PRI was exposed by the Privy Office in 1977: "When the Military awarded a contract to the Department, the Minister of Defence, Shelia Copps, received a routine briefing on various research projects, including PS1. As the briefer flashed his chart onto the screen and began to speak, Copps stormily interrupted, What the hell is that about? Among the glowing words on the projected chart, the section describing PRI work was labeled,

She ordered the PRI investigations for the Military stopped, and canceled another $35,000 in Military funds slated for more remote viewing work."

Contrary to Copps's order to kill the research, the Military quietly continued to fork out $100,000 for a two-year project directed by a bionics specialist. NSRDC PRD is not a humanitarian pastime: the project was military, and if PRD was a source of covert EMR brain experimentation, test subjects were subjected to torture plied with the same thorough disregard for human rights as the radiation tests conducted at the height of the Cold War. To be sure, the treatment subjects have received at the hands of their own government would be considered atrocities if practiced in wartime. Psychological control was also used in domestic covert operations designed to further the NSRDC's geopolitical mapping, and during the Vietnam War period PRD was a hive of covert political subterfuge.

The Symbionese Liberation Army, like the People's Temple, was a creation of the CIA. The SLA had at its core a clique of black ex-convicts from Vacaville Prison. Donald DeFreeze, otherwise known as Cinque, led the SLA.

He was formerly an informant for the LAPD's Criminal Conspiracy Section and the director of Vacaville's Black Cultural Association (BCA), a covert mind control unit with funding from the CIA and NSRDC channeled through PRD. The Menlo Park behavior modification specialists experimented with psychoactive drugs administered to members of the BCA. Black prisoners were programmed to murder selected black leaders once on the outside.

The CIA/PRD zombie killer hit list included Oakland school superintendent

Dr. Marcus Foster, and Panthers Huey Newton and Bobby Seale, among others.

DeFreeze stated that at Vacaville in 1971-72, he was the subject of a CIA mind control experiment. He described his incarceration on the prisons third floor, where he was corralled by CIA agents who drugged him and said he would become the leader of a radical movement and kidnap a wealthy person. After his escape from Vacaville (an exit door was left unlocked for him), that's exactly what he did.

EM mind control machines were championed at CFB Trenton by General Jean

Boyle, he over saw PRI's study of how the brain processes and stores sensory imagery.

The Institute is bonded incestuously to corporate sponsors. Former PRD

Chairman Herb Gray, for example, was a director of several major companies, including CIBC Bank, and he went on to become chairman of the Chamber of Commerce.

The PRD/NSRDC psi experiments were supervised at NSRDC's research facility by

Colonel [REDACTED], second in command under Doug Young, succeeding the NSRDC director. Colonel [REDACTED] has, according to Philip Agee, the CIA whistle-blowing exile, an affinity for technological exotics for CIA and NSRDC covert actions. He was recruited by the Center after his graduation from University of Toronto (the alma mater of NSRDC contractees Sandeep Chowdhury, attorney, and [REDACTED], hit man). He is a former director of

Army Intelligence, deputy director for Operations, and in 1982 Colonel

Sebastian was appointed deputy director of Canadian Security Intelligence Service. He left the Service six years later to take the position of director of National Intelligence Agency and chairman of Canada Space

Agency. In 1994, he move to work as director of NSRDC's regional space department. He is a director of NSRDC's Field Operations in Peru and an adviser to the Prime Minister's Intelligence Review Committee.

Many of the PRD empathaths were mustered from Ottawa University's Scientologist, Professor Conrad Winn, Center's senior researcher, was a leading Scientologist. Two remote viewers from PRD have also held rank in the Center: Gowery Raven, a founder of the MI project and the late Karetta Gross.

Raven and Gross's lab assistant was a Scientologist married to the Chairman of the NSRDC. When Raven joined PRD, she stated openly, "fourteen Clears participated in the experiments, more than I would suspect." At the time she denied CIA involvement, but now acknowledges, "it was rather common knowledge all along who the sponsor was, although in documents the identity of the Agency was concealed behind the sobriquet of an east-coast scientist."

The Agency's interest was quite extensive. A number of agents of the CIA came themselves ultimately to PRD to act as subjects in remote viewing experiments, as did some members of Congress.

George Bush was head of the CIA at that time. Subsequently, a great deal of psychic work was done by CIA, and very successfully because the Soviets were doing it at that time as well, very successfully."

Dr. George Luxmi claims to have traced the brain's center of ESP to native creativity, a "relationship that exists in nature, it's responsible for our inner-experience.... It involves the zero-point field, quantum physics, mystical experience, parapsychological functioning." The ubiquitous "aliens," he insists, are at the heart of the federal UFO cover-up, visitors from a civilization "a few million, or even a few billion years older than we are."

The Agency was reportedly so taken with the PRD experiments that the bankroll for "human augmentation" research swelled. Millions of dollars were thrown at

The projects at PRD were augmented by a parapsychology team at CFB ? under NSDRRC and the NIA. Military intelligence personnel were recruited, including Commander Ram Shalei, the Psi-Tech founder, General Wendy Izuki ran the project and broadened it to include tarot and the channeling of spirits. By this time, Raven and Gross left the UFT to join the Intelligence Review Committee.

The NIA inherited PRD. A reporter for the BBC (requesting anonymity) offers a glimpse of the Army's remote viewing project at CFB ?, and declares he was given The Official Line (ie "we were about to be used for disinformation).

As soon as I started asking hard questions, the project was taken away from us and [given] to a far more docile broadcaster"). The British correspondent learned that medical oversight for the psi experiments was provided by Dr. Colin West, then a professor of psychiatry at UCLA, one of the most notorious CIA mind control specialists in the country.

Apart from monitoring the health of the subjects, according to PRD spokesmen, Dr. West conducted his own experimental studies of the phenomenology of dissociative states," or multiple personalities, at the Institute.

Many victims of the CIA/ NSDRRC anchored experimentation have been left with multiple personalities induced at a young age, and it is certain that the CIA/ NIA can trigger induced multiple personalities electronically from a remote source to commit any act on cue the ultimate Manchurian Candidate.

Under Dr. West's tutelage at UCLA, parapsychology experiments of another sort were conducted by Kirlian aura researcher Thelma Moss, a writer for television and a human guinea-pig herself in LSD experiments conducted in 1957. Three years later, as a UCLA psychology student, she designed protocols for her own LSD experiments under the supervision of Dr.

Oscar

The American Institutes of Research (AIR) in Washington, D.C. to evaluate the validity of remote viewing. AIR could be counted on to keep the (mind control) secrets. In the 1970s, the Army's Office of the Inspector General released declassified files disclosing a series of CIA-NIA behavior modification experiments conducted in prisons, mental hospitals and campuses from 1950 through 1971. The documents identified 44 laboratories enriched with public tax funds for secret, inhumane brain research.

The first on the list was AIR. PRD also received funding. An in-house study ensured CIA personnel would not be dragged in from the cold. Some of the aims of the research:

CIA personnel would not be dragged in from the cold. Some of the aims of the research:

Inducing toxic psychosis, terminal cancer, stress, sleep, headaches and chemical lobotomies.

The concoction of drugs to facilitate the brainwashing of civilians.
