

To: " [REDACTED] eer M.D.", Dr_ET
CC: [REDACTED]
From: [REDACTED] NTERNET [REDACTED]
Date: 3/29/98, 5:14 PM
Re: More from [REDACTED] on bases.

File [REDACTED]
New B A [REDACTED]
UTAH
arosh

To: "Steven M. Greer M.D." <[REDACTED]>
From: [REDACTED]
Subject: More from [REDACTED] on bases.
Cc: [REDACTED]
Mime-Version: 1.0

>Date: Sun, 29 Mar 1998 13:35:27 -0800
>From: S [REDACTED]
>X-Mailer: Mozilla 4.04 [en] (Win95; I)
>To: "[REDACTED]" <[REDACTED]>
>Subject: Re: Greetings
>
>Greetings [REDACTED]-
> I wish him luck with the budgeting. I know how that gets. You are both >right about the "strange bedfellows." That, in and of itself, places some >real >question marks out there.
> I think that I might know where the base is in Utah. I have some data on >that place that goes back into the late 1980's. Seems that tarpped truck >loads >were consigned to be left in the middle of nowhere up in the extreme NW >corner >of Utah, which is very barren. The USAF personnel start showing up at >Jackpot >to gamble on a regular basis.
>The nearest Idaho base would be Mountain Home and it is much closer to >Winnemucca than to Jackpot?? The Hill AFB people go to Wendover. So the >question was where were these guys stationed. After I spent some time in >Utah,
>there were more rumors from that area, but I didn't have time to check these >out.
> The work from Groom that has been transfered to Dugway is being done in D >(Dog) area. This is the area that is furthest to the west from the main >gate.
>The only way that this is viewable is from the Fish Springs Wildlife Preserve >to the south or from the area close to the Goshute Reservation on the west >side >of the salt flats.
> Tony, as you can see, Utah is a real sleeper, and it is my assessment >that >they want to keep it that way. It is much easier to protect this area, as >there are few to witness an "accident."
>
> [REDACTED]
>
> [REDACTED] note:
>